SHOWDOWN ON ECONOMY ASKED BY ROOSEVELT

President and House Demo Leaders Approach Agreement on How Much Ex-Soldiers Allowances Can Be Cut to Aid Budget Balancing—Both Sides Make Concessions.

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—House democratic leaders and President Roosevelt have gone far toward reaching a compromise agreement on the controversy over how much war veterans' allowances can be cut to aid budget-balancing.

As the special veterans committee went to the white house for a final showdown, with President Roosevelt, Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the democratic leader, told news papermen "surprising progress has been made toward reaching an agreement."

"Indications are that a satisfactory compromise will be reached," he added, saying the "remaining bone of contention is what is going to be done with the Spanish-American war veterans."

The president, Byrns said, had made some great concessions, as did advocates of the Connally amendment on the presumptive World war veteran cases.

Subject to Review.

The virtual agreement on the presumptive cases provides that they take the 25 per cent reduction—or whatever other percentage of limitation is agreed upon along with service disability connected cases—subject to a review of each individual presumptive case by the government. Byrns made the progress report after a meeting of the steering commitee and the special veterans committee.

The president's compromise proposal includes an agreement that the compensation of no veteran with service connected disability shall be reduced more than 25 per cent, that in border line presumptive cases the veteran will be given benefit of the doubt and that in other presumptive cases right of six months' appeal shall be given.

Douglas Drafts Plan.

Louis Douglas, director of the budget, early today drafted a plan which represented the limit to which the administration was prepared to go on veterans aid.

House leaders who early in the day were informed of the presidential declaration were inclined to believe it would receive house approval.

Mr. Roosevelt's plan does not involve any additional taxation nor does it sanction the return to the federal payrolls of more than 100,000 cases presumed to be service connected.

THIRTY COUNTIES ASK FEDERAL AID

Statements Of Relief Needs Pour In To Governor.

Forty-eight counties in Nebraska have informed Governor Bryan of their relief needs for the purpose of obtaining aid from the federal reconstruction finance corporation. Some of them claim to be badly in need of funds, while others are desirous of sharing in any allotment of cash made from Washington, though they are not as yet hard pressed financially.

Mr. Bryan said Thursday morning that there will be no change in the minimum wage rate of 30 cents per hour for common labor on state and federal highway projects. Compared with what farmers have been realizing from their labor, the governor declared this is very liberal pay. He thought, however, that the rule imposed by the United States government restricting road workers to 30 hours in one week should be modified.

CONGRESS CLOSE BY SATURDAY IS ROOSEVELT HOPE

Confers With Leaders On Early Wind-Up of Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—President Roosevelt went to work today with congressional leaders to wind up the extra session program as impending international problems pressed for attention.

He called in house democratic leaders for a decision on the disputed veterans economies with a determination to end this row immediately in the hope of adjournment of congress by the week-end.

At the same time, the president prepared to use his influence in behalf of legislation to aid cities reduce their debts and to protect the rights of New York state on power under the St. Lawrence waterways treaty.

Presidential attention to both of these proposals appeared certain in the closing hours of the extra session.

War Debts Near Climax.

Meanwhile, the war debts issue was rushing to a climax with the next payments due the United States on June 15.

On Monday the world economic conference opens. The Geneva disarmament parley is in a critical stage. International affairs are commanding Mr. Roosevelt's attention and he wants congress to wind up the domestic program immediately.

The president has given no clue on what he will do toward the European pleas for relief on the June 15 war debt installments, although no specific proposals have been received. With the British cabinet meeting tomorrow on this question, Ambassador Lindsay of Great Britain arranged for a talk at the white house late today.

Mr. Roosevelt has told congres-

Fight News Right Off Wire Tonight at The Star

Promoter Jack Dempsey having chased the broadcasters out of the Yankee stadium, New York, scene of tonight's glove rumpus in which Max Schmeling and Max Baer will exchange punches in a 15-round fist soiree, the fight fans of Lincoln may look to The Star to provide them with the news of the battle.

A direct Associated Press wire circuit, connecting The Star with the Yankee stadium ring, will bring the news of the fray, blow by blow and round by round, and the news will be megaphoned from the M street side of The Star building.

The Star's special fight report will get under way about 7:30 p. m., Lincoln time. Fight followers of the Lincoln region are invited to be The Star's guests at its Thursday night "party."

THOMPSON ASKS REVENUE POST FOR O'MALLEY

Bryan-Mullen Fight Over Patronage Looms Due To Selection.

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—George W. O'Malley of Greeley was recommended for internal revenue collector for Nebraska today by Senator W. H. Thompson.

He asked Guy Helvering, commissioner of internal revenue, to take immediate action on the recommendation.

O'Malley was speaker of the Nebraska house of representatives during the last legislative session and was understood to have the support of Governor Bryan, who appointed Thompson.

GEORGE W. O'MALLEY.

Arthur Mullen, national democratic committeeman for Nebraska, who had submitted to Thompson a list of nine persons—not including O'Malley—whom he would recommend for the position, said he was not surprised.

"More will be heard about this later," he said. "I suggested nine good democrats and he didn't see his way clear to select one."

SHRINE COUNTRY CLUB IS MECCA

Nobility In Great Numbers Attending Spring Ceremonial.

The Shrine Country club was teeming with Shriners from all over the state Thursday, as Sesostris temple held its spring ceremonial and recreation day in which a crowd of nearly 1,000 participated in a golf tournament, swimming, skeet trap shooting and the lodge ceremonials.

The local as well as visiting Shriners began to arrive at the club early Thursday and long before noon the club house and golf links were bustling with activity.

The golf tournament, swimming and skeet trap shooting were the principal diversions during the morning and early afternoon. A business session was held at 3:30 o'clock.

The ceremonial work began at 4 o'clock and continued throughout the rest of the afternoon. A banquet with an informal program is scheduled for 6 o'clock. During the evening the wrecking crew will work on the candidates and there will be special entertainment.

Dr. Fred M. Andrus, illustrious potentate, is in charge of the program.

BUS SERVICE SURVEY BEGUN

Traction Company May Ask Leave to Drop or Curtail Some Lines.

A new study of bus service in Lincoln with a view to making application to the state railway commission for discontinuing some of the lines or curtailing the service is being made by the Lincoln Traction Co., it was learned Thursday. No application has been filed as yet with the commission.

The traction company is determining the revenue which is received on various branches. The survey is said to have shown that on some lines the revenue is not sufficient to pay for even the gas and oil used by the busses, much less to meet the salary, maintenance and overhead charges. The company makes reports with the commission as to total income and expenses but does not show the income on various branches.

If an application is made for curtailment of service, Lincoln patrons of the bus lines and the city will be given an opportunity by the railway commission to present objections before any order is granted.

BOY STILL MISSING.

T. H. Meadowcroft, 1446 Peach street, said early Thursday afternoon he had received no word from his son, Harold, 16, who disappeared from the family home Monday. Harold, who is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 125 pounds, may be headed for Kansas, where relatives live, according to is father.

Goodman Shoots 75 First Round

NORTH SHORE GOLF CLUB, Glenview, Ill., June 8—(AP)—Johnny Goodman, Omaha amateur, shot a 75 in the first round of the national open golf championship here today.

Goodman came back with a rush, dropping a deuce on the 13th and holing a 10 footer for another birdie on the 14th. He was even with par, 36, over the troublesome last nine and finished with 75 to give the amateur brigade another contender. Meanwhile his partner, Billy Burke, lost his putting touch and used up 41 strokes, coming back for a total of 79.

Goodman, missed several short putts and was out in 39. Burke, 1931 open champion, sank a 12-footer for a birdie 4 on the long seventh, but got into trouble on the next two holes and carded 38 out.

WIND STORMS BREAK STATE HEAT PERIOD

Lincoln Enjoys Cooler Weather; Damage In West Nebraska.

Cool breezes swept Lincoln Thursday morning in the wake of tornadic wind, rain and hail storms in the west and north sections of the state Wednesday night, which broke the back of the heat wave but left widespread damage throughout those areas.

Continued cooler tonight was the weather bureau's forecast for Lincoln as the mercury managed to climb to 81 at 12:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. From a high of 96 Wednesday afternoon, the mercury dropped to 66 at 6 o'clock Thursday morning, the first time in three days that it dropped below 70.

Madison, North Platte and Lyons were the hardest hit by the tornadic wind, which was accompanied by heavy rain and hail, Associated Press accounts said. There were no accounts of injuries, although several persons had narrow escapes. It was the second successive day of violent windstorms for the North Platte area, which was swept by a twister two weeks ago causing several deaths.

The tornado struck at the Henry Peterson farm, near Madison, smashing two large barns and unroofing a third. His residence was damaged and a cottonwood grove destroyed. Henry Seile, farm hand, was picked up by the wind and carried about 600 feet before he was dropped safely in an alfalfa field.

Barns, sheds and small buidings were destroyed on the Alfred Correll and Ted Davis farms near

Only Worthy Parole Cases Get Hearings, Paul Good Relates

The work of the board of pardons and paroles was explained by Attorney General Paul F. Good at the luncheon of the Co-operative club at the Lincoln hotel Thursday noon.

"Many people wonder why we parole so many, for usually about twenty of twenty-five who come before us are paroled," he said. "This is because the board hears only cases which appear to be of distinct merit, since it costs the state from $5 to $10 for every case that it hears."

Miss Kathryn Dean, contralto, sang a group of seelctions, accompanied by Miss Fern McDougall.

SENATE GRANTS MORE POWER IN MORGAN PROBE

Committee Given Authority to Examine Stock Transactions.

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—Profits of $96,000,000 on paper for the Van Sweringen interests in the 1929 formation of Alleghany corporation, a holding company, were traced this afternoon in the senate investigation of J. P. Morgan & Co. railroad financing.

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—The senate unanimously today voted more power for its investigation of private banks and bankers, and soon thereafter O. P. Van Sweringen, as a witness in the J. P. Morgan & Co., inquiry, characterized such procedure as "terrifically destructive."

"All business is of greater volume than a year ago," he had remarked, interrupting a long series of questions on involved financing of the extensive Van Sweringen railroad enterprises and the part taken by the Morgan bank.

Referring to rail operations, he added "that's all we need" in connection with expanding business.

"Business needs encouragement and not frightening," he went on philosophically.

"If I may speak frankly, these investigations are terrifically destructive."

A moment later he said, "I should not have said that. I did not mean these investigations, but—" he never finished the sentence.

Morgan Smiles.

J. P. Morgan, chief object of the inquiry, sat back among waiting witnesses smiling.

As today's hearing opened, the senate meanwhile was putting through the resolution giving the

PAVING ON W STREET DELAYED

City To Investigate New Routes For Truck Traffic.

W street will not be paved from Eleventh to Fourteenth street, until after the possibility of establishing a new truck route from Tenth to Fourteenth street has been thoroughly investigated, Mayor Fenton Fleming announced Thursday, following a hearing in the council chamber.

The hearing was attended by the property owners in the territory involved. Among them were representatives of the University, John Schwartz, 849 North Twelfth, Mrs. Christine Schwartz, 851 North Twelfth street, Mrs. L. W. Poore, 848 North Eleventh street, and Emanuel Schultz owner of the lots at 826 and 840 North Eleventh street.

The representatives of the university included Chancellor E. A. Burnett, Regent Earl Cline, Dean H. H. Foster, and L. F. Seaton. They with the individual owners

Senator Gass Finds Business Improving

State Senator Thomas Gass of Kearney finds a much better feeling among farmers and local merchants in his part of the state since the business upturn got under way. He reported during a visit at the capitol Thursday that an automobile dealer at Kearney told him that during the month of May an average of one sale was made every day, this being very much better than in previous months.

Man Should Master Machine, Junior High Graduates Told By Dr. Calhoun

It is useless to fight against a machine age but man's challenge lies in becoming master of the machine, Dr. Paul Calhoun, pastor of First Presbyterian church, told 882 Lincoln junior high school graduates at exercises held in St. Paul M. E. church Thursday afternoon marking their promotion to senior high.

"I would remind you," said Dr. Calhoun, "that there are many limitations that the machine has that will forever leave large spheres of activity and opportunity for the human. A machine cannot create life nor ever reproduce it. A machine cannot invent another machine. A machine cannot compose a Fifth symphony or even a piece of doggerel.

Control Or Be Destroyed.

"You boys and girls had better think twice before you form habits or appetites that will weaken or dull in the slightest degree your mental alertness or your moral perception. Your fathers have built machines that you are called upon to handle. If you do not control them well they will destroy you.

"You cannot expect to drive a two hundred horse power engine like that which Mattern is making a record with by encircling the globe in an airplane in the course of eight days unless you have a clear head and a keen working mind and a clean heart. The demand for the day in which you are to live your life demands clearer and ever clearer heads, cleaner and ever cleaner hearts if our machines are to prove a blessing and not a curse."

Dr. Bailey Gives Certificates.

Certificates of promotion were given by Dr. B. F. Bailey, president of the board of education. Junior civic league efficiency awards were made by W. S. Whitten, secretary of the chamber of commerce, and piano certificates by Miss Fern M. Ammon, supervisor of elementary music. Rev. F. L. Rodenbeck gave the invocation and benediction.

Music was presented by the massed junior high schools' orchestra, under the direction of Bernard F. Nevin, and by the juniors' massed chorus, directed by Miss Marjorie Miller.

AGREEMENT ON HOME AID BILL

Early Action On Conference Acceptance Will Be Sought.

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—Senate and house conferees today agreed on the administration's $2,000,000,000 home mortgage relief bill, one of the parts of President Roosevelt's recovery program.

As revised by the conferees, the maximum value of a home on which a mortgage could be handled was placed at $20,000.

The refinancing limit would be $14,000, or 80 per cent, whichever was lower.

Early action on the conference agreement will be sought in the house and senate.

The conferees limited to 40 per cent of the value of the property involved amounts that could be loaned as direct cash advances to home owners, and retained a senate provision limiting interest to 6 per cent.

Provisions Eliminated.

Provisions setting up a system of national and local conciliation boards to adjust mortgage debts were eliminated, along with a provision that state administrators be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate.

The conferees restored a house provision that repeals the section of the existing home loan banking law permitting direct loans to home owners.

The bill sets up a $2,000,000 home loan corporation to exchange its bonds for mortgages with authority to issue up to $2,000,000,000 in bonds.

It also provides for a federal savings and loan association system, to co-operate with individuals about the country in investing funds for financing home purchases.

Roosevelt Urges Early Start On Seaway Project

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—President Roosevelt today endorsed the St. Lawrence seaway project anew with a declaration that "the beginning of the work of construction at an early date can be made an essential part of the national public works program."

The words were contained in a letter to Senator La Follette and arrived at the senate at a time when the possibility of ratification of the treaty at extra session appeared remote.

Although Mr. Roosevelt previously had expressed a desire that the treaty be acted upon now, his letter did not specifically state this.

Opposition to ratification has evidenced itself recently in floor debates.

MOSCOW, June 8—Gasoline fumes from a leaking gas line, which almost overcame him in the air, forced Jimmie Mattern suddenly to land near Prokopievsk, Siberia, Wednesday, the American round-the-world flier told the Associated Press today.

"I am still sick from those fumes," the Texan said in an exclusive telephone interview. He spoke from Belovo, a workers' settlement near Prokopievsk, where he came down at 10 a. m. Moscow time, Wednesday (1 a. m. Lincoln time), a few hours after he had started from Omsk, Siberia, on the fifth lap of his round the world dash.

"I can't hold any food on my stomach, but I expect to get off for Krasnoyarsk in five or ten hours," he said.

"I was four hours out of Omsk when I discovered a leak in the fuel line, and by the time I had found out what the trouble was, I was in bad shape from the fumes."

Almost Unconscious.

He added that he was almost unconscious when he brought the plane down on a small emergency landing field at Belovo, the settlement.

"When I landed, I broke my stabilizer and I cannot make permanent repairs here.

"They have helped me as much as they can here, however, and I

Baer Will Have 13-Pound Weight Edge Over Max

NEW YORK, June 8—(AP)—Max Baer, California heavyweight, tipped the scales at only 203 pounds, seven under what he had said he would when he weighed in at New York state athletic commission headquarters today for his 15-round bout with Max Schmeling in Yankee stadium tonight.

Despite the low weight Baer was pronounced in fine physical condition by Dr. Joseph M. Sheridan, commission physician, who said his nerve reactions were those of a man who had "just walked in from the street to see what was going on."

Baer's pulse beat was 64 and his blood pressure 122 over 70, considered remarkable for a boxer on the eve of a major bout.

Schmeling appeared at the commission offices at 1:05, E. S. T., and almost immediately stepped on the scales to sen dthe bar to 189¼ pounds, witin ¾ of a pound of the weight he said he would carry into the ring. He thus will give Baer an advantage of 13¾ pounds.

DRY RALLY TO BE HELD JUNE 20

Meeting Here to Decide Referendum, Boycott, Lawsuit Issues.

A mass meeting of drys in Lincoln on June 20 was called Thursday by State Superintendent R. P. Hutton of the Anti-Saloon league to decide what action to take in fighting the Nebraska beer law.

The call for this "all Nebraska dry" convention has been sent to church groups and Hutton expects to have the signatures of a thousand persons by Sunday. Leaders of all dry organizations are co-operating in arranging the meeting.

The dry rally will be held in the St. Paul M. E. church.

Act On Boycott Plan.

The afternoon program includes action on a boycott resolution, launching of a state-wide movement to prevent issuance of beer licenses through remonstrance petitions, decision as to a referendum, determination whether to seek a court injunction against the beer laws, and opening of the campaign to get out voters for the 1934 elections on repeal of state and national prohibition. Hutton announces that a nationally known speaker will appear at the evening program.

Hutton's slogan for the mass meeting is "to start the water wagon and stall the beer truck." The program arranged for the convention would indicate that the dry leaders have virtually decided not to

As Rogers Sees It

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 8—Aviation developed another Lindbergh, Jimmie Mattern and Amelia Earhart when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt finished a transcontinental flight. There is a real boost for aviation.

But here is what she really takes the medal for, out at every stop, day or night, standing for photographers by the hour, being interviewed, talking over radio, no sleep, and yet they say she never showed one sign of weariness, or annoyance of any kind.

No maid, no secretary, just the first lady of the land on a paid ticket on a regular passenger plane.

If some of our female screen stars had made that trip, they would have had one plane for secretaries, one for maids, one for chefs and chauffeurs. And a trailer for "business representatives" and "press agents."

PLANE WRECKED AS MOLLISONS BEGIN LONG HOP

Accident Halts Takeoff Of Famous English Flying Couple.

CROYTON AIRPORT, England, June 8—(AP)—Disaster overtook Capt. James A Mollison and his equally-famous flying wife today at the outset of their adventurous attempt to set three new aviation records.

Their large plane carrying a three-ton load, crashed at the take-off for a flight to New York, whence they planned to fly to Bagdad and then back to England.

Neither of the fliers was hurt. They have performed several brilliant air exploits individually, although this was to have been their first record-breaking trial together

Machine Wrecked.

The machine had run about 30 yards when it apparently struck a depression in the field. Its landing gear was torn away, the nose was dented. both propellers were curled up; the lower left wing was broken, and both righ wings were crumpied It turned a complete circle, but did not overturn

Aghast at the misfortune attending the beginning of an adventure they had planned for weeks, neither Captain Mollison nor his wife had a word to say as they ruefully surveyed the wreckage.

The Mollisons' next attempt is not likely to be made within a month as they wish to start with a full moon. This gives them ample time for repairs.

Camps Named For Bryan, Morton And Roosevelt

The state game commission has named the three camps it is establishing for conservation corps workers in honor of President Roosevelt, Governor Bryan and J. Sterling Morton, State Game Warden Frank O'Connell said Thursday.

Camp No. 1, named for Roosevelt, is near Louisville, No. 2, the Bryan camp near Fremont and the Morton camp, No. 3, at Benkelman. The names were selected and work outlined to be done at the various camps by the commission at its meeting Wednesday.

The three camps are expected to be established and work started at them by July 1, O'Connell announced The game commission is providing the work and the camps are under the supervision of the national park service of the department of interior. Two other camps to be established in Nebraska, at Chadron and Crawford, are under the forestry service of the department of agriculture with State Forester Clayton Watkins arranging for the work

The game commission met with Governor Bryan for the first time since his illness Wednesday, members of the commission spending about an hour at the executive mansion.

3 SCORE DEATHS ARE ATTRIBUTED TO HEAT, STORMS

Most of Nation Between Rockies and Atlantic Is Harassed.

KANSAS CITY, June 8—(AP)—Blistering heat tornadoes and winds akin to tornadoes, hail and lightning harassed the nation in much of the area between the Rockies and the Atlantic Wednesday Nearly three score deaths, most of them due to drowning and heat prostration, were reported.

Deaths were most numerous in the states bordering the Great Lakes There were eleven in Illinois, 8 each in Wisconsin and Indiana, three in western New York, two in nearby Ontario, and four each in Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania. Including Tuesday, there have been ten deaths from drowning in Wisconsin

Bloomington, Ill, and Paducah, Ky, reported maximum temperatures of 102

The western New York deaths were due to a violent wind, hail and electric storm One was drowned at Buffalo one was crushed by a barn in Lancaster and another struck by ligtning in Batavia

No vessels were reported lost on the Great Lakes, although navigation of small craft was hazardous

Tornado Picks Up Nebraskan.

Harold Seiler, a farm hand near Madison, Neb was picked up by a tornado, carried over several trees and dumped, unhurt, in an alfalfa field

Extreme heat, and lack of recent rains, were reported by official Kansas agricultural sources as unfavorable to wheat, oats, pastures, potatoes and barley, but beneficial to corn.

Yes, We Have Many Miller Moths But They'll Soon Go, Says Swenk

Lincoln people who have been swatting large miller moths the last few mornings are right when they complain about the number of insects this year Prof Myron H Swenk, university entomologist said Thursday that the quantity is probably the largest in this section of the state since 1926

Professor Swenk says that the type of millers seen recently in Lincoln are known in their early careers as "army cutworms" because of their somewhat military movements by groups when in the crawling stage The present crop were born last fall, and did most of their crawling this spring particularly in winter wheat and alfalfa fields They caused some damage this year, Swenk reports.

The best news is that most of the intruders will be dead by virtue of outraged homeowners or Mother Nature by about June 20 according to Swenk A few will survive for the egg-laying period in the fall But those few will avenge their fallen comrades by laying 250 to 300 eggs apiece

Although the reason for the unusual quantity of the millers this year involves a number of scientific factors Professor Swenk said that the general reason was favorable weather last fall As to the preference of the millers for crowding the garage or popping into the house in the morning, Mr Swenk says that the insects select such places in order to avoid bright lights

Action To Enjoin Heating Plant At Uni. Is Dismissed

Ernest H Holms Thursday lost in District court a case in which he sought a permanent injunction to prevent operation of the joint University of Nebraska-capitol heating plant at Fourteenth and W streets and also damages for $25,000 Judge Frost dismissed the case, tried some time ago in a brief decree without stating his reasons

Holms, who operates a combined grocery and filling station about 100 feet from the heating plant, claimed that it was in operation 24 hours a day, discharging coal dust, cinders and ashes about his premises He also claimed that sulphurous vapors and acids emanated from the heating plant, causing those in the vicinity to become sick and injuring the finish of automobiles which came to his filling station

The case was brought against the regents of the university and against Laurence F. Seaton, university operating superintendent.

AMERICAN DOLLAR DROPS AT LONDON

LONDON, June 8 — (AP) — The American dollar depreciated in after-hours trading today to $4 13¼ to the pound Thus the pound sterling attained its highest value since Great Britain left the gold standard. The official close, however, was $4 10 1-8

Market men were at a loss to explain the abrupt movement. Yesterday's bank close was $4 05⅞, and thus the quotation represented a depreciation of 7⅞ cents in one day. It was believed that selling emanated from New York

Commission Again Refuses to Conduct Hearing at Omaha

The hearing on the Omaha & Council Bluffs Streets Railway Co application to curtail bus service at Omaha was completed Thursday morning after the state railway commission again refused to hold another hearing en Omaha.

City Commissioner Dan Butler said after the hearing that if the commission grants the application, an appeal will be carried to the Supreme court questioning the jurisdiction of the railway commission

Pimples Continually Inflamed and Sore. Healed by Cuticura.

"The starting of my face trouble was an oily skin and in about a year pimples and blackheads began to show. They were hard and small at first but later became larger and were continually inflamed and sore. They often festered and scaled over, and when they did the irritation caused me to scratch. The trouble lasted about six years.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample of each. They did wonders for my face so I purchased more and in about three months I was completely healed." (Signed) Elmer Jenkins, 601 Market St., rear, Portsmouth, Ohio, July 13, 1932.

HERE IS A MYSTERY... can you solve it?

The Kidnapper's Mistake

Ten year old Jack Leagon was kidnapped and held for ransom in remote house. He became so ill the next day that the kidnappers abandoned him at roadside. The boy was in such serious condition that he nearly died.

Meantime, Detective Batten had become suspicious of Tommy Ayer, a shady local character, and his pal, Butch Mims. Both men swore that they were together at the time of the kidnapping, but were at a nearby Standard Oil Station buying a tank full of Standard Red Crown. The station attendants had been so busy that evening that they could not remember whether the two men were actually at the station.

When Jack was able to talk Detective Batten heard his story. All he could remember was that the motor of the car he was taken away in was noisy. "Whenever we came to a hill, or when the driver stepped on the gas, the motor made a sort of sound like ping—ping—ping," he said.

Batten left and called Tommy Ayer to headquarters.

"You still stick to your story that you were buying Standard Red Crown Gasoline at the time Jack Leagon was kidnapped?" Batten asked.

"I sure do."

"Then why was it that on that night your motor had a knock which someone noticed?"

"There wasn't no one could of heard that knock," protested Ayer.

"That's all I want to know, and that's the end of your alibi," snapped Batten.

He called another officer. "Go get Butch Mims," he said. "We've got both these birds where we want 'em now."

How did Batten know that Tommy Ayer's alibi was false?

Answer (Turn upside down for easy reading): The moment the kidnapper admitted that there had been a knock in his motor Batten knew that he could not have been using Standard Red Crown, and therefore had not been at the Standard Station as he claimed.

A New Serial by Ruby M. Ayres

SYNOPSIS: Bernie Boyd has come home from a party to find Nicholas, her husband, in the depths of despair. Injured while rescuing a girl from a frightened horse, he has been told by the motion picture company whose star he has been that his scarred face and limp end his usefulness in the films. His only course is to retire to a little village in his native England—and Bernie declares she cannot live in England. They quarrel, and at last Bernie locks herself in her room. The knowledge that Bernie winces at the sight of his battered face is salt upon Nicholas' wounds.

Chapter Three.
TOSSED ASIDE.

AT last Nicholas felt peacefulness closing about him, and then when the first rosy streak of sunlight lit the greyness, he turned and flung himself down on the bed and slept heavily.

When he awoke the door between his room and his wife's was standing wide open.

He lay for a little while looking at it; somehow he knew instinctively that the room beyond was empty.

She had left him a note, and she had left her wedding ring lying on it.

I can't come with you Nick, and I don't think you want me to, so I'm going away. Don't worry about me, but you won't—you said I should be all right. It's no use saying I'm sorry—you won't believe me.

BERNIE.

She had taken everything of value that he had given her, and she had left behind her wedding ring.

The window was wide open to the morning sunshine, and Nicholas lifted his arm and flung the ring into the street.

He thought again of the English country-side very much as a man dying of thirst in the desert will think of water.

If there was a boat home he would go by it. There was nothing to keep him in a country that had no more use for him; the thought put new life into him.

TWENTY-FOUR hours later he was watching New York fade into the sunshine behind him.

There had been nobody to see him off. He had registered under his own name but even that had not seemed to arouse much curiosity, so quickly was he fading from memory.

He stood staring out over the sea, at the receding skyscrapers and the statue of Liberty which was growing every moment in perspective more like a dumpy wagon.

When he could no longer distinguish her in the misty distance he turned and went down to his cabin.

The steward was there, unstrapping his luggage.

Nicholas frowned.

"All right, leave it," he said shortly.

The man stood up. "Anything I can do for you, Sir—?"

"Yes, leave me alone."

How tired he was. He sat down on the side of his bed and stared down at his lame leg. The doctors had told him he was lucky not to have lost it.

Overhead and all around was noise and bustle—voices calling, the thud of heavy luggage. Nicholas felt himself to be far removed from it all. He was travelling on this boat because there was no other way to go home, but he was something apart—the world had passed him by.

He Stared Out Over The Water.

Someone knocked at his cabin door; he heard it but he gave no sign, and the knock was repeated.

Nicholas frowned—"Who is it?"

The door opened timidly till it was wide enough to show the slim figure of a girl who stood there with a bunch of flowers in her hand.

When she saw Nicholas, she smiled, and there was no trace of horror, or even of pity in the smile, although she must have seen the thing that had made Bernie wince and turn away.

Nicholas did not move, and she came a step further, holding out the flowers.

"Do you mind? I thought you would like them," she said.

HE made no offer to take them, and she laid them down on the little table between them.

"I'm going home too," she said.

She was young and slender with a sort of elfin look that made Nicholas think once again of English country-side. Apart from that she was not at all pretty, or was it that he had forgotten what natural beauty was like?

Her hair was soft brown, and a little untidy, hanging to her shoulders in loose curls, and she wore a short dark skirt, and a scarlet jacket. Badly dressed, Jaffer would have called her if he had noticed her at all, but it was more likely that his eyes, always on the lookout for a potential star, would have passed her over.

Her eyes wandered away from Nicholas round the cabin.

"It's nice here, isn't it?" she said engagingly.

He stood up, wincing a little at a sudden pain.

"Is your cabin on this deck?" he asked.

She shook her head. "No. I'm down below; it's cheaper."

"In that case," he said harshly, "there is no need for you to visit this deck in future, is there?"

The smile died on her elfin face, and for a moment she seemed at a loss for words, then she said uncertainly,

"I'm not going to bother you. I don't want your autograph or anything, but I've always loved you so in the pictures."

"I've done with the pictures."

Damn the girl! Was there no way of making her see that she was unwelcome?

She nodded, her eyes serious.

"I know. It made me cry when I heard," she said.

But there was still nothing in her eyes but wistful interest.

Nicholas tried again.

"Your friends will be wondering where you are," he said meaningly.

She laughed at that. "I haven't any friends on the boat, I'm travelling alone."

"I prefer travelling alone," he said shortly.

For a moment she stared at him uncomprehendingly, then she said slowly, "Do you mean that you don't want to talk to me?"

"That is exactly what I have been trying to convey."

"Oh—" For a moment she looked hurt, then she smiled again. "I'm sorry. I expect you're tired. I didn't mean to bother you."

As the girl turned to go, Nicholas picked up her roses and without a glance at them, flung them through the open port.

No Interference With Jobless Mass Meeting Sunday, Says Fleming

The city will make no effort to prevent the mass meeting of unemployed at Antelope park Sunday, according to Mayor Fenton B. Fleming. Police will be sent to the park, however, to maintain order. "There is no reason why we should stop the meeting," the mayor said, "but order must be the rule and, further than being instructed to see that there are no disturbances, the police will be without orders."

The mass meeting is to be staged in protest against relief workers for the city being compelled to accept food orders on the county emergency store as pay.

In a resolution presented to the council Monday, a joint committee of the city's unemployed group asked for a hearing. If the city fails to grant the request, the resolution said, a mass meeting will be called for Sunday at Antelope park, to find ways and means to enforce cash payment for work.

Adventists Arrange Series of Meetings

Conventions Will Be Held In Lincoln. College View As Part of State Program.

A big program of Sabbath-school conventions and rallies among the churches of the Nebraska conference of Seventh-day Adventists from June 9 to 24 has just been arranged and will start in the Omaha church next Friday night. Rev. J. C. Thompson, of the Sabbath-school department of the world's general conference of the denomination will come from his headquarters in Washington, D. C. to take a prominent part in the programs.

It is expected that practically all of the 50 churches in the conferences will be represented at these different conventions. The session in Omaha will continue June 10 and on the following day a convention will be held in Tekamah. Rev. T. B. Westbrook, president of the Nebraska conference, and Mrs. Ann S. Taylor, secretary of the Sabbath-school department will attend most of these conventions along with Rev. Mr. Thompson.

There will be two different sessions in and around Lincoln. On June 12, there will be a meeting in the Lincoln church while on June 23 and 24, a convention will be held in the College View church.

Other conventions that have been planned are as follows: June 14, North Platte; June 17, Chadron; June 18, Gering; June 21, Kearney; June 22, Hastings.

It was explained by Mrs. Taylor, the Sabbath-school secretary, that practically one-half of the offerings sent to the foreign mission board of the denomination for the advancement of missionary operations abroad are secured through the Sabbath-schools, and the coming meetings will be held to bring inspiration to the members, and also to encourage them in their liberality in making gifts for the promotion of mission enterprises.

NOW SCIENTISTS EXPLAIN

. . . precious elements Nature puts in skin to keep it youthful are actually in this soap

The gradual loss of these elements makes skin old-looking, dry, unattractive. Lux Toilet Soap is an unquestionable aid in keeping skin young-looking, softly smooth . . . scientist tells stars

WONDERFULLY soft, smooth skin—this charm is every woman's birthright! For nature has given to skin of every type—to your skin, too—precious elements that keep it young, softly smooth.

Then why does skin grow dull, drab—old before its time?

The Secret of Youthful Skin

Skin, science has found, contains certain precious elements. These elements, found in youthful skin of every type, keep it fresh, smooth, attractive, young . . . help guard it when exposed to wind, dust and sun.

The gradual loss of these elements is what makes skin get old looking, dry, rough, unattractive. But scientists give this welcome and all-important message—you can now check the loss of these precious elements.

This Soap actually contains Precious Elements found in skin itself

Now scientists attest the fact that Lux Toilet Soap, with its complete freedom from harshness, its ready solubility and its content of precious elements is an unquestionable aid in keeping skin young looking—softly smooth.

Small wonder that Lux Toilet Soap is used by the screen stars, and has been for years. 686 of the 694 important Hollywood actresses are enthusiastic in their praise. And women everywhere have been proving for themselves that this fine soap actually keeps skin fresher—younger—more attractive.

A Younger Looking, Lovelier YOU

SCIENCE tells you that pure, safe Lux Toilet Soap actually contains precious elements all skin must have to look youthful. These elements are found in the skin itself—an abundance in fresh, youthful skin, less in skin that is growing old, unlovely.

HOLLYWOOD has proved through years of daily use this soap actually keeps every type of skin younger looking.

MILLIONS of women (and men) everywhere confirm Hollywood's experience.

Won't YOU prove the beautifying effect of this fragrant, white Lux Toilet Soap?

"I found out the secret of keeping my skin young looking," says Mrs. J. I. Potter of Montclair, N. J.

"—simply by using the same care for my skin that the Hollywood stars use . . . Lux Toilet Soap. I've been using this nice soap for a long time. From the very beginning my skin took on a new freshness and became wonderfully improved."

Scientist, Lost In Northern Tibet Since 1927, Safe

PEIPING, China, June 8—(AP)—Dr. Nils Ambolt, a member of a Chinese-Swedish expedition who was lost in 1927 in northern Tibet, is safe in Khotan, southwest Turkestan, according to a telegram received today by the Swedish explorer, Dr. Sven Hedin, who planned to search for his conferer.

The message from Dr. Ambolt said he was returning shortly to China by way of India.

Dr. Ambolt went into Sin Kiang with a caravan of eighty camels in order to continue four years of research in Central Asia. A terrific snowstorm caused Dr. Ambolt to lose his camels and scientific instruments worth thousands of dollars.

He proceeded afoot toward Cherchen oasis, 400 miles south of the capital of Sin Kiang and had not been heard from until today.

Dr. Hedin was awaiting permission from the Nanking government before proceeding into the province.

JAPAN PRODUCES A SENSATION AT GENEVA MEETING

Not to Abolish Air Bombing Till Aircraft Carriers Abandoned.

GENEVA, Switzerland, June 8—(AP)—Japan produced a sensation at the disarmament conference today by announcing that it was unable to accept complete abolition of bombing from the air until the great powers abolish aircraft carriers.

Abandonment of air bombardment is a feature of the British draft convention now before the conference. All countries have accepted this point in principle, although the British desire to have the right to resort to bombing for police purposes in outlying regions, such as northern India.

Ambassador Naotake Sato announced categorically that Japan was not in position to renounce general air bombardment because it was not confident that the powers would fulfill their pledge of renunciation. There might be infractions, he said.

The ambassador also fixed the following conditions for Japanese abandonment of air bombing:

1. An interdiction against providing warships with airplane landing platforms.
2. An accord which would prevent the utilization of civil aircraft for military purposes in wartime.

Attacking the London naval treaty, Sato said that it had resulted in an unhappy situation.

"The London treaty should have brought appeasement to all the signatories," he declared. On the contrary it has created an atmosphere of uncertainty and apprehension."

When Sato finished, Arthur Henderson, president of the conference, said he had not been aware such an important declaration would be made. Other delegations would like to discuss it, Henderson explained, and therefore adjournment was taken until this afternoon. Hugh R. Wilson, American representative, said he probably would speak.

Streetcar With Rubber Wheels Will Soon Make Appearance in Chicago

CHICAGO, June 8—(AP)— A new kind of streetcar, with rubber wheels, is soon to make its appearance in Chicago.

This was announced by Guy A. Richardson, president of the Chicago surface lines, when he made public the first report on four years of research in behalf of 25 of the larger street railway companies of the nation.

"A new application of rubber in wheels, springs and trucks has left the overhead trolley wheel as the most distinguishable sound," he said.

FRED CREUTZ TO HEAD DRUGGISTS

Beer Sale Opposed By Executive Body Of Association.

Fred Creutz of Wausa was elected president of the Nebraska Pharmaceutical association Wednesday afternoon. A banquet and grand ball in the evening closed the three-day convention.

J. G. McBride of Lincoln, secretary since 1909, was re-elected. Other officers chosen are: Orel Jones of Oconto, treasurer; Guy Butler of Lincoln, first vice president; Frank Cline of Auburn, second vice president; R. W. Dunkle of Shelby, third vice president; H. L. Bellamy of Cambridge, fourth vice president; and Fred V. Bors of Wilber, fifth vice president.

FRED CREUTZ.

The following were named to the board of examiners: M. E. Lasdal of Ogalla, J. A. Porter of Lincoln; T. H. Harkness of Lexington, and Mr. Bellamy.

Oppose Beer Sale.

In line with the association's traditional opposition to the sale of alcoholic beverages in drug stores, the executive committee Wednesday went on record against retailing of 3.2 beer through pharmacies. The subject was not brought before the convention as a whole, however.

A resolution was adopted by the convention hoping for Governor Bryan's recovery from his illness.

The association also went on record as being opposed to the sale of drugs and patent medicines by wholesale grocers to retail grocery stores.

Legislative Report Made.

A report was made by Guy Butler, chairman of the association legislative committee, in regard to bills enacted by the legislature.

Bird S. Potter, Gothenberg, retiring president gave his thanks to the members for their co-operation during the year. Fred Creutz, newly elected president, also spoke briefly, as did Mrs. J. C. Thygeson, Nebraska City, incoming president of the ladies auxiliary.

Bill Hughes, Lincoln, who was to have delivered the principal address at the banquet, was suddenly taken ill as he started speaking and had to leave the hall.

Following the banquet, at which Margery Whitney entertained with songs, the grand ball was held. W. P. Scott, Lincoln, was master of ceremonies at the ball.

Bishop Claire Urges Newman Church Help

Need of Strong Negro Church, Especially In University City, Emphasized.

Voicing a strong plea for support for the Newman Methodist church, Bishop Matthew W. Claire of Covington, Ky., spoke before a mass meeting of several hundred persons Wednesday evening in the St. Paul Methodist church. The choir of the Newman church presented a program of spirituals.

Bishop Claire, who is in charge of the negro Methodist churches in the central west, stressed the need for a strong negro church in Lincoln. He pointed out that of the 1,000 negroes in Lincoln almost 50 per cent were not being reached by a church.

"Since the University of Nebraska is located here, the young folks who come to attend it should have an opportunity to relate themselves to the community life and to enter into a program of uplift and betterment for the community," Bishop Claire pointed out.

The Newman congregation has been occupying the basement of the building at Twenty-third and S streets for some time and recently erection of the superstructure was commenced. The church hopes to raise $2,500 to pay for the completion of the building.

Nearly $140 was contributed to this purpose Wednesday evening. Rev. Ira W. Kingsley, pastor of the Grace Methodist church, is chairman of the committee in charge of raising the funds, having been appointed to this capacity by the Methodist churches of the city.

Rev. P. H. Murdick, president of the Methodist Ministerial association, gave assurance that the Methodist churches would co-operate in the work planned by the Newman church.

Nebraska Soil Needs Immediate Moisture

Heat Wave Has Made Top Earth Hard and Dry, Weather Bureau Report States.

Top soil is now dry and hard throughout the state and crops, especially in the eastern and northeastern counties, need moisture, according to a summary of weather and crop conditions in Nebraska prepared by the Lincoln weather bureau.

In the greater part of the state, however, vegetation made good progress and the week was favorable for farm work, the summary stated.

Unusually high temperatures for so early in the season occurred. There were a few scattered showers, but most communities received no rain during the week, said the report.

Rainfall for the week ending June 6 was:

Red Cross Nursing Service Cared For 175 Patients in May

The public health nursing service of the Lincoln Red Cross which participates in Community chest funds cared for 175 patients last month, the nurses making 470 calls. Sixty-one patients were maternity cases, sixty-nine were for non-communicable disease, one for tuberculosis, and forty-four were for health supervision.

Only one of the 129 cases dismissed during the month was able to pay the full rate charged for the nursing service where patients are able to pay, while only two could pay a part of the regular charge. During the month death claimed a cancer patient to whom the Red Cross nurses had been giving care for more than three years. The number of calls made by the nurses on this patient was 267. Fifty-two cases were cared for under contract with insurance companies.

DEATH AT ALLIANCE

ALLIANCE, Neb., June 8—(AP)—Mrs. O. A. Davig, 86, of Victoria, Tex., died Tuesday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Max Moscrip of Alliance. Mrs. Davig was a pioneer resident of Box Butte county and lived here until six years ago, when the family moved to Texas. Funeral services will be held here Saturday and burial will be made here.

Men aren't the only ones who know Luckies are better

We women know that there's always a good reason for everything. And when a cigarette is so unusually mild, so pure and fine-tasting as Luckies are—what other reason but "Toasting" could there be? No man has to tell me that fine tobaccos play an important part—but Luckies please me completely in still another way. My cigarette is such a personal thing—when I place it between my lips I want to be sure not to offend my sense of feminine daintiness. You men have your reasons for saying "Luckies Please!"—but with me it's the welcome purity as well as the flavor and mildness that "Toasting" imparts.

—because "It's toasted"

J. E. LAWRENCE LAUDS CHAMBER

Relates Leadership In Civic Affairs To Drive Workers.

There is no organization in any city that has a greater influence on the growth and development of a community, than a chamber of commerce, J. E. Lawrence told the workers in the Lincoln chamber's co-operation campaign at a supper Wednesday night. Nearly 100 attended. Dana Cole, chairman of the campaign committee, who presided, explained the purpose of the campaign as being an effort to increase business and employment. L. C. Oberlies led in singing pep songs.

Likening a chamber of commerce to the town meetings of old, Mr. Lawrence said the purpose of a chamber of commerce is "high and noble. Just as citizens in olden days gathered on the village common and discussed the interests of their community, the members of a chamber of commerce today gather around a table and plan for the betterment of their community."

A chamber of commerce is not a political organization, Mr. Lawrence declared. It is an organization of business and professional men who have in mind only the advancement of their community. The city's problems are their problems, and they are the only ones who can solve them."

Mr. Lawrence paid tribute to the men of Lincoln who, in the past, "have sacrificed time and money for the advancement of the city. They are the men who are responsible for what Lincoln is today, just as you are responsible for what this city will be tomorrow and in the years to come."

The strength and vigor of every advanced step that Lincoln has ever taken, have come from members of the chamber of commerce, Mr. Lawrence said. "Just as the strength and vigor that will lead the nation out of its present troubles is coming from the council boards of chambers of commerce, so did it come from the men who have led in every forward move here."

To the foresight and vision of J. E. Miller, J. C. Harpham, C. H. Rudge and many others can be credited most of all that is worthwhile in Lincoln today, Mr. Lawrence said, eulogizing these early day leaders. To Mr. Miller belongs the credit, more than to any other man, for the "beautiful park system," he said.

Credits Water Project.

Mr. Lawrence said it was the chamber of commerce that assumed the responsibility for the Ashland water extension project. The chamber started the move for a municipal golf course, and it has been the chamber that took the initiative in everything that has been worthwhile here, he declared.

The men who have done these things have had a consciousness of Lincoln. They knew what it means to have a beautiful city—one of the finest in the world, "and every citizen should join hands in this co-operation campaign and help carry it forward. In doing so they will be helping carry themselves to better times and better conditions for every other person in Lincoln."

In preparation for the dinner, slogans had been posted on the walls of the main dining room. The most conspicuous among them was "O. K.," the slogan of the campaign. Others were:

"The way back is straight ahead. Let's go ahead together."

"We've tried playing the lone wolf; let's go together; say O. K."

"Every man who depends upon the payrolls of Lincoln for a living, depends upon the chamber of commerce."

"Thar's gold in them thar hills; Let's dig for better business."

"The chamber of commerce is the only agency in Lincoln charged with the responsibility of improving business. Cooperation is the basis of success."

"The depression got us all, but if we get together, we'll get the depression."

"The history of the growth and progress of Lincoln is seen in the minutes of the chamber of commerce. Only the municipal history is found at the city hall."

Stanley Maly, president of the chamber, pledged the workers 100 per cent co-operation of every officer. The board of directors, he said, has been divided into groups of two each, and will solicit life and sustaining fund members. Ralph Thiesen, assistant chairman of the drive, also spoke.

New Yorker Accused of Beating Reno Divorce Seeker 'Black and Blue'

RENO, Nev., June 8 —(AP)— For beating Mrs. Miriam V. Hostetter Young, Pittsburgh heiress and Reno divorce seeker, after she allegedly rejected him as a suitor, Eugene A. Bowen, former New York restaurant owner, faced the choice of a $50 fine or 25 days in jail here today.

Bowen's conviction of assault and battery followed a trial in which A. P. Johnson, assistant district attorney, appealed for a verdict which would show that "Reno doesn't approve of New York gigolos coming out here and beating up other men's wives."

Mrs. Young, wife of Charles Fuller Young, New York broker, testified at the trial Wednesday that Bowen had beaten her "black and blue" on two occasions after she had spurned his attentions.

"He said he was going to fix me so I could not go out with anyone but him," she testified.

Bowen declared from the witness stand that Mrs. Young received the black and blue marks as she fell against a dressing table in her hotel room. He asserted he came to Reno at Mrs. Young's request and had sought "to protect her from herself" during her divorce residence in Nevada. He claimed he had remonstrated with her for drinking intoxicating liquor.

Abductors of U. S. Missionary Evade Japanese Troops

MUKDEN, Manchuria, June 8—(AP) — Japanese and Manchukuo troops seeking the release of Dr. Neils Nielsen, an American missionary, from kidnapers, today poured upon the abductors' supposed lair, but found it empty. The troops began fresh efforts to locate the hideaway.

Dr. Neilsen of Minneapolis was taken by brigands April 12, and held for ransom, said to total $100,000. Since then American consular officials, local authorities, and troops have sought him.

He was last heard from on May 2 when in a message to Mrs. Nielsen, he cautioned other missionaries to avoid personal risks because kidnaping and banditry was rife in the area.

Today

Again, Why Pay Interest?

What Red Hair Means

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Cyrus H. K. Curtis, owner and creator of the Ladies Home Journal, the Saturday Evening Post, and other publications, is dead at the age of 82. He began as a newsboy, and ended with many millions, which he did not need, and never valued highly. He was older than his age, had been ill for more than a year, and had recently lost his wife, to whom he had been devoted. No friend would wish to bring him back to a world that is 90 per cent trouble.

The secretary of the treasury asks the public to subscribe to one thousand million dollars worth of government notes, to meet the cost of a public works program.

How will the contractors and workers on that program be paid? They will be paid with money printed and backed by the United States government.

Why not print the money and pay it to them, instead of borrowing it, and then paying interest on it?

The money, with the government name on it, is exactly as good as the bond or note with the government name. Why insist on putting out bonds or notes to make taxpayers pay billions in interest?

You will be told that if the government should issue three billions of currency, not pay any interest, it could go on and issue any number of billions. So it could, but it would not. If you drink a glass of beer, you might go on and drink a keg of whisky, but you would not do it unless you were foolish.

The government's greatest asset is its ability to give the value of money to a piece of paper on which its name appears. Why should it pay in interest six billion dollars for the privilege of paying out three billions of its own perfectly good money?

The Massachusetts league of Women's Hairdressers says "red hair will be popular this summer." Not too red, a sort of titian or auburn, the hair worn just below the neckline.

If your hair isn't red, you can easily make it so.

Red hair is a survival of primitive days, and indicates surviving strength of character. Like the power to wiggle the ears and move the scalp, it indicates power to resist the processes of evolution.

Mrs. N. Y. W. of California, waked by her crying baby, Alex, drowsy, slapped it. It became quiet, went to sleep again. In the morning it was found dead, and she was arrested on a manslaughter charge.

The child died from a cerebral hemorrhage, caused by slaps on its thin skull.

Parents, even semicivilized, should know enough not to whip any child, and to strike an infant is horrible. A man will whip his own child, and would not allow a servant to whip his young dog or horse, for fear of "breaking the animal's spirit."

The number of unemployed in England has decreased by 114,755 in a month, by more than 400,000 in four months. We have no such encouraging figures to offer in this country.

And, unhappily, some of our efforts at economy will make it worse. For instance, getting rid of 250,000 public employes, according to economists, will mean unemployment for at least 250,000 others.

Fighting the depression is a complicated job.

4-POWER PEACE ACCORD PRAISED

U. S. Collaboration in Averting War and Disarmament Desired.

Britain, Italy, France and Germany Prepare to Ratify Pact.

ROME, June 8—(AP)— The governments of Great Britain, France, Italy, and Germany prepared today to present to their parliaments for ratification an agreement for a decade of peace and disarmament.

Signed in Premier Benito Mussolini's office last night, the pact pledges the four great western European powers to collaborate within the framework of the League of Nations, to examine articles in the league covenant pertaining to aggression, to work for the success of the Geneva disarmament conference, and to co-operate in economic reconstruction.

The signing of the accord was received in Italy with great jubilation, parades, illumination of public buildings, speeches by Il Duce, and countrywide demonstrations by cheering crowds.

France Is Praised.

Newspapers called the accord the greatest event since the World war and were emphatic in their praise, especially for France. They predicted the settlement of all major Italo-French differences.

Before the Italian senate Mussolini declared the success of the world disarmament conference in Geneva is indicated, adding, however, that "if despite everything it ends otherwise we have the pact to fall back upon."

Its chief values are that it induces collaboration at a time when Europe fears war and that it pledges disarmament regardless of the arms conference decisions.

"This collaboration is desired particularly with the United States, without whose valuable and practical assistance no stable and constructive work in world political pacific, or economic restoration is possible," said Mussolini.

Garland Station Is Robbed; Attendant Knocked Unconscious

After knocking the attendant, Leonard Weiman, unconscious with a club, two men robbed the Conoco filling station at Garland of $10 in cash shortly after 11 o'clock Wednesday night. The robbery was reported to the state sheriff's office.

Printers Accept Terms Of Seattle Publishers

SEATTLE, Wash., June 8—(AP)— Members of the Seattle local, International Typographical union, have voted to accept terms offered by the publishers of Seattle's three daily newspapers and return to work today. The vote was 193 to 87.

During the 2½ weeks since the controversy arose, non-union employes have been working in the composing rooms. The differences arose over the modification of seniority and other rules, after the union men had voted to accept a 10 per cent wage cut. Approximately 300 men were involved.

Japan Expected to Buy More American Cotton

OSAKA, Japan, June 8—(AP)—The prospect of a marked increase in Japanese purchases of American raw cotton is expected as a result of a decision of the Japan cotton spinners federation to cease buying raw cotton from British India.

This decision, reached by the federation's emergency committee, is in retaliation for India's 50 per cent increase in duties on non-British cotton cloths announced on June 6.

The Indian action was taken because of the depreciation in the yen and the pressure of Japanese competition.

BARN AND CONTENTS BURN.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a barn on the A. B. Feather farm, three miles northeast of Havelock, at 2:07 o'clock Thursday morning. Included in the contents which were consumed were 3,000 bushels of corn, 300 bushels of oats, sixteen tons of hay, two hogs, and several sets of harness.

PAVING PROGRAM NEARLY FINISHED

Eighty Miles Concrete Laid; Other Work Under Way.

The 105 miles of paving included in the $5,000,000 highway construction program last summer is now more than 75 per cent completed State Engineer Roy Cochran said Thursday The construction program made possible by emergency federal aid funds is scheduled to be completed July 1 but additional time has been given contractors on a number of the projects in order that employment benefits may be spread out

Eighty miles of paving had been completed at last reports to Cochran, leaving 25 miles to be finished In addition to the paving there are many grading, graveling and other types of construction work included in the program which started last fall

The Completed Projects.

Paving projects which have been completed follow: Milford to Dorchester, 15 miles, Norfolk to Stanton, 2 miles; Columbus to Duncan, 1½ miles, Holdrege to Axtel, 6 miles On the following jobs, preliminary work is in progress but no pavement has been placed, north of Auburn, 2 miles, north of Blain, ½ mile, west of Seward 1 mile, west of Maxwell, 1½ mile, south of Alma, 1 mile

The stage of construction on other paving projects follows north and south of Falls City 2 miles completed 1 to be constructed Alda to Wood River 13 miles completed, 2½ to be constructed, Lincoln to Beatrice 17 miles completed 4 miles to be laid west of Union 4 miles completed 2 under construction Lexington to Cozad 10 miles finished 4½ uncompleted east of Sidney 7 of a mile completed 3 of a mile to be constructed Fremont to Hooper 6½ miles completed 2½ under construction Jackson to Waterbury 3 miles completed 1½ to be constructed.

Construction has not started yet on three bituminous mat surfacing projects Sidney to Brownson 8 miles, Ogallala to Brule, 9 miles, and Big Spring to Chappell 5 miles Between O'Neill and Atkinson 9 miles of oiled sand surfacing has been completed leaving 8½ miles to be constructed while between Mitchell and Henry 2½ miles of oiled and bituminous mat surfacing is completed with 1½ miles under construction

Work has not started on the following four gravel surfacing projects Stockville to Curtis 12 miles Norfolk to Stanton 1 mile Silver Creek to Stromsburg 8 5 miles Meadow Grove to Newman Grove 12 miles Progress on other graveling is as follows Dannebrog at Midway 4 miles completed 3 to be constructed Greeley to Scotia, 8 miles completed, 7 to be constructed

Twenty-one grading projects also are included in this highway program made possible by emergency federal appropriations This work is over one-half completed approximately 130 miles having been finished while 64 miles of work is to be done

Don't Do It Again

CHICAGO, June 8—(AP)— An electric train was speeding toward downtown Chicago last night at the rate of 60 miles an hour.

Three-year-old Arthur King, who had wandered from home peered through his thick-lensed glasses and started to cross the tracks.

Passengers waiting at a station shouted in horror, but before they could attract the boy's attention the train struck him

The train crew took him to a hospital, where physicians found that beyond " small bruise on his head and a few minor scratches from his broken glasses, there was nothing much the matter with him.

Spanish Premier And Cabinet Out

MADRID, June 8—(AP)—The government headed by Premier Manuel Azana resigned today

Opposition to the Azana government, which was formed December 15, 1931, has been piling up for some time. The cabinet's difficulties were increased materially recently as a result of a controversy over Spain's new religious laws

These laws, which were signed by President Niceto Alcala Zamora last week, turned religious orders into civic groups and nationalized church property worth millions of dollars Pope Pius issued an encyclical declaring the legislation constituted an attack not only on the church but on all religion, and members of the Spanish government were automatically excommunicated

A. R. Talbot Of Lincoln Renamed Woodmen Consul

DETROIT, June 8—(AP)—The 22nd camp session of the Modern Woodmen of America, it election over, today will devote itself to sight-seeing tours and to a fellowship banquet tonight under the auspices of the National Camp Clerks' association.

The Woodmen returned their entire slate of officers by unanimous consent. Head consul A R Talbot, Lincoln, Neb, for two decades head of the order, leads the list

Others re-elected were C W. Byrer, Seattle, Wash, head advisor, J G. Ray, Rock Island. Ill, head clerk, and Oscar E Aleshire, Chicago, head banker George L Bowman, Kingfisher, Okla, was named chairman of the board of directors, to serve with E. J Bullard, Detroit, J D Volz, Indianapolis, George Hatzenbuhler, Bloomington, Ill, F. M McDavid, Springfield, Mo, and W W Gordon, Kansas City, Kas.

More than 1,200 delegates and guests are attending the encampment which adjourns tomorrow.

Under changes made in the bylaws of the organization, the chief officer, heretofore known as "head consul," will be given the title of national president, the "head clerk" will become national secretary; the "head banker," will be national treasurer, and the "head advisor" will become national advisor

It is the first change in titles in the more than half a century of the order's existence

Olive oil protects the youth of your skin

—and it's olive oil that makes Palmolive green

CENTURIES ago, the oils of olive and palm were found to be priceless protection to lovely skin. They are still nature's supreme beautifiers—today.

Secretly blended, in Palmolive Soap, they give you a beauty soap that removes accumulated impurities in gentle safety, without danger of drying the skin.

And those oils—no other fats, whatever—give to Palmolive its natural green color—a color that assures you of supreme mildness, of safety and true beauty protection

Because Palmolive now costs so little, you can well afford to let it do for your entire body what it does so well for the face.

Your daily beauty care

More than 20,000 experts tell you to cleanse skin this way: Work a rich, thick lather of Palmolive Soap and lukewarm water into the skin of face, throat and shoulders. Rinse—first with warm water, then with cold Watch how this revives and refreshes the beauty of your skin.

The vial at the right shows the exact amount of olive oil we put into each cake.

GUARD OFFICERS RECEIVE MEDALS

Service Awards Given To Medical Group At Annual Party.

The tenth annual party and inspection of the Lincoln units of the 110th medical regiment, Nebraska national guard, was held Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce. A feature of the affair was the presentation of medals by Col. W. H. Oury, commandant of the university R. O. T C , to the officers and men who have had five and ten years service in the regiment. The inspection was proceed by battalion formation, and a program and dancing closed the evening

The Lincoln units of the regiment, which is a part of the 35th national guard division comprising the states of Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, are the service company, Capt. Harry R. Ball, commanding, hospital detachment, Capt. Rodney K. Johnson, commanding, veterinary company, Capt. Wayne S. Alford, commanding. The headquarters unit, also located here, commanded by Col. David L. HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS and SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS.

HOLLYWOOD—A preview of "I Cover The Waterfront" shows that the producers have woven a melodramatic tale from Max Miller's reportorial book.

In this instance, they have caught some striking pictures of waterfront life to serve as a background of a story that is not in Miller's book, to be sure, but one that is exciting enough to make readers forget that Resourceful Ben.

It's all about a reporter's efforts to trap an old fisherman (Ernest Torrence) at Chinese-smuggling, using his pretty daughter (Claudette Colbert) as an innocent stool-pigeon. A few of the book's characters are met as the film progresses.

Ben Lyon is the reporter, bored with his job but caddishly using Claudette's affections to get his scoop. Ben isn't a drukard, he just has a bottle of gin handy for occasional reference, but his comedy side-kick (Hobart Cavanaugh), also a newspaperman, is perennially "stewed"

Newspapermen witnessing the picture may find renewed warrant for the criticism that producers, who go to great pains to present accurate detail in film presentations generally, fail sometimes when they come to sequences dealing with the city room and the behavior of the editors and reporters.

They'll smile—or maybe frown—at the picture of Purnell Pratt as the city editor who sits at an imposing desk in a big private office and seemingly does nothing but bawl out Ben and let Ben call him a nit-wit and worse

Aside from these amusing but not unusual sidelights, "I Cover the Waterfront" attains freshness in locale and speed in action.

Hit That Line, Boys.

Football coaches, once stock movie characters who, like movie newspapermen, always did certain things in a certain way, are gradually becoming humanized. J. Farrell MacDonald, for instance, was believable in "The Spirit of Notre Dame." And now in "College Humor" there is a real coach — Howard Jones of U. S. C.—playing the role.

Jones, it seems, looked at his dialog, saw it was of the "Listen, you dumb clucks" school, and said, "No" He couldn't do it that way.

So they changed the character to fit Jones rather than the actor to fit the character. That's encouraging

HOLLYWOOD — Unemotional and impersonal business is the selection of girls for a Hollywood chorus.

The girls, hundreds of them, blonds, brunets, red-heads, large, small and middling, slender and sizable, assemble in bathing suits on a rehearsal stage.

At one of these selections the appointed hour is 3 o'clock; long before that time the rows of chairs on three sides of the hall are filled with chattering girls, and more are coming, faster than the checkers at the door can handle them. On the fourth side of the hall, commanding a view of the whole scene, is the desk where sits Sammy Lee, dance director.

The Beauty Gantlet

The buzz and babble— it sounds hilarious—is halted by diminutive Sammy's call for quiet. His announcement is matter-of-fact: "We can use only a few of you, and we don't want you to feel bad if you're not chosen. It won't be your fault, and it isn't mine if you're not. We can't tell you why, so don't ask me"

He turns to an assistant, who calls off 25 names from a list, with orders to form a line

"I'm going to tell some of you to stay, others to leave," continues Sammy Lee "Those to leave go out this side and go home The others go that corner and turn in your names"

Cues And Exits

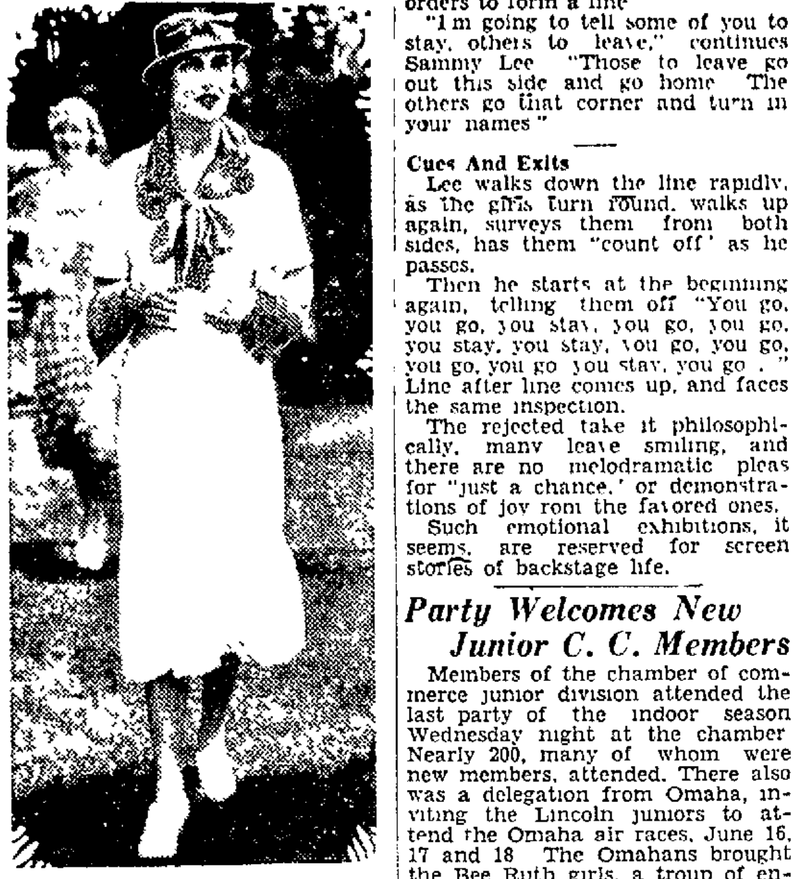
Lee walks down the line rapidly, as the girls turn round, walks up again, surveys them from both sides, has them "count off" as he passes.

Then he starts at the beginning again, telling them off "You go, you go, you stay, you go, you go, you stay, you stay, you go, you go, you go, you go you stay, you go . . ." Line after line comes up, and faces the same inspection.

The rejected take it philosophically, many leave smiling, and there are no melodramatic pleas for "just a chance," or demonstrations of joy rom the favored ones.

Such emotional exhibitions, it seems, are reserved for screen stories of backstage life.

Spotting a Winner



To see the very latest in feminine fashions, visit a race track. Here is Mrs. Harold E Talbot, noted society leader, pictured at Belmont Park, N Y, in a sporty ensemble composed of a white glove silk dress, trimmed with polka dot material, with gloves, scarf and hat band matching.

Party Welcomes New Junior C. C. Members

Members of the chamber of commerce junior division attended the last party of the indoor season Wednesday night at the chamber Nearly 200, many of whom were new members, attended. There also was a delegation from Omaha, inviting the Lincoln juniors to attend the Omaha air races, June 16, 17 and 18 The Omahans brought the Bee Ruth girls, a troup of entertainers with them They gave singing and novelty dance acts

Lincoln entertainers at the party included Jean Marie Beaman Julia Barnett, and Inez Camp, who sang and gave dance numbers. Harlan Easton gave impersonations and Tony Santino gave a group of songs, playing his own guitar accompaniment

Alan C McIntosh newly installed president, welcomed the new members.

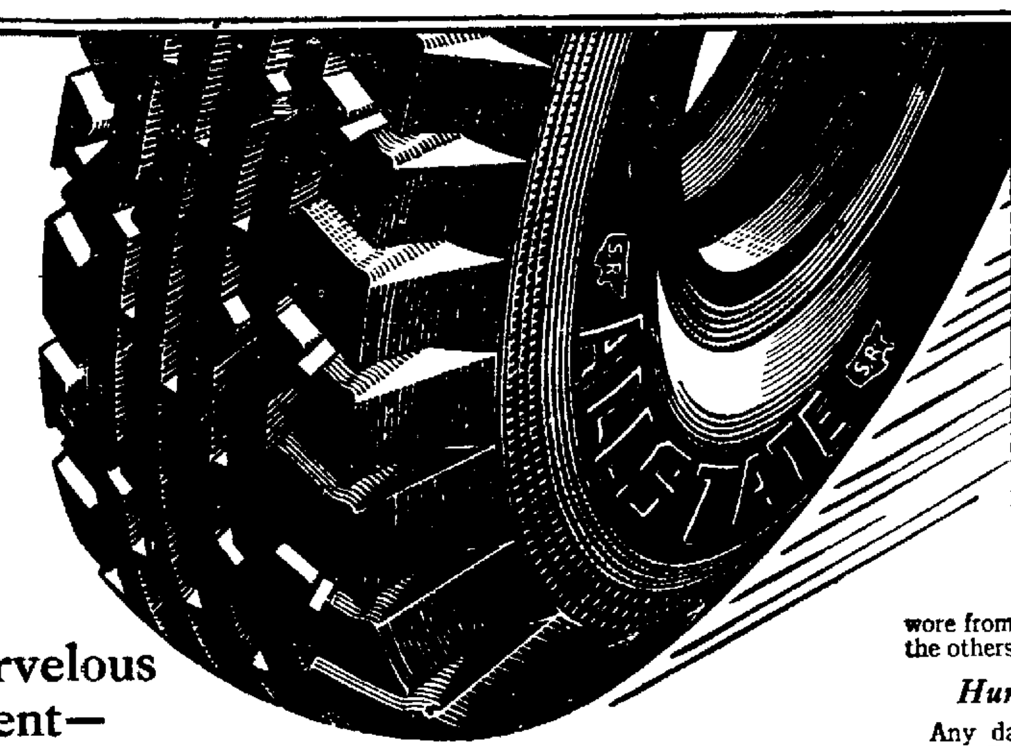
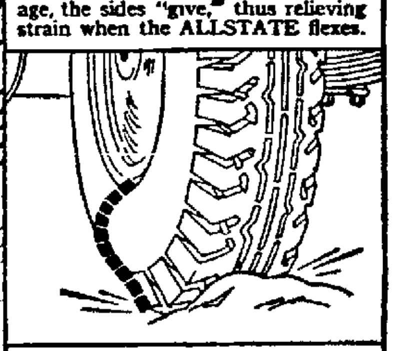
Whenever You Drive Over 35
YOU ARE BETTING YOUR LIFE
That a Tire Won't Blow Out!





Now—Before All Prices Jump—get the

*Unblowable Tire

In a 2-year road test of leading makes Not One ALLSTATE Blew Out!

Why ALLSTATE Balloons Do Not Blow Out

Due to the Superlastic Cords having 25% to 30% more stretch than the average, the sides "give," thus relieving strain when the ALLSTATE flexes.

Curve indicates arched flex of ALLSTATE, due to Superlastic Cords

A marvelous Patent—

Superlastic Cords—ends "Blowout Zone"

Makes these tires STRETCH where others strain and break

MANY tire makers have striven to end blowouts and their dangers. For insurance records disclose that tire failure is a chief cause of fatal accidents. That whenever you drive over 35 an hour you are betting your life on your tires.

So tire makers have added plies, made rubber tougher, treads heavier, cords stronger. But tires continue to blow out.

Now Sears, in six million mile tests, has demonstrated that not strength alone, but STRETCH in the cords, is the way to make tires unblowable.

The reason is this: When a car is in motion, the tires flex up and down constantly. If the cords lack stretch, this forms a hinge on the sides,—frays them out—creates a "Blowout Zone." That's why 95% of the blowouts do not occur through the tread where wear is greatest,—but through the SIDES!

Hence for ALLSTATE Tires, a wholly new cord was invented—a marvelous Superlastic Cord with 25% to 30% more stretch than average. It makes the ALLSTATE arch when it flexes—makes it "give" under shocks and stress—relieves the strain that breaks non-elastic cords.

Thus Superlastic Cords—a marvelous invention—now ends the blowout evil.

Sears makes this amazing announcement only after six million miles of tire testing. We wore out fleets of cars—on every car one ALLSTATE and three other standard tires. Not one ALLSTATE blew out! And ALLSTATES wore from 13.8% to 57.1% more miles than the others.

Hurry—Before Prices Jump

Any day now you may see higher tire prices. Raw rubber is going up—so is cotton, so is labor. Act promptly—save cash!

Come to the nearest Sears store at once. Let the least that you do be to put ALLSTATES on your front wheels. For front-wheel tires steer your car. Don't take a chance there.

If it isn't convenient to shop at one of our retail stores, order Unblowable ALLSTATES from our catalog. If you don't have a book, write to Personal Service Department 151-16 Sears, Roebuck and Co., Kansas City, Mo., stating size of tire needed.

Sold only by Sears, Roebuck and Co.

* Any tire can be blown out by driving into holes in the pavement or by under-inflation But ALLSTATE Tires, if kept inflated at our specified air pressure of 32 pounds or more, or within 15% of it, will not blow out under normal road conditions, before the tread is worn smooth.

German Found Guilty— William German was found guilty by a District court jury on a charge of contributing to delinquency of a minor. Pete Spaedt, charged with the same offense, pleaded guilty at the start of his and German's trial. Sentence has not yet been imposed.

Ask Bids On Supplies—Bids for supplies needed in connection with manufacturing automobile license plates at the state reformatory factory will be received by the board of control on June 19, Secretary Shatto said Thursday. Bids are being taken on 533,000 sheets of waxed paper, 10,000 cartons and 560,000 printed envelopes.

Holiness Meeting—The regular all-day meeting of the Lancaster County Holiness association will be held Friday at the Free Methodist church Twenty-seventh and Orchard streets. Speakers during the day will be Rev. A. V. Wilson and Rev. G. B. Mayfield.

Argue Flannigan Appeal—The appeal of James C. Flannigan from a 5 to 10 year sentence given him in Holt county for accepting deposits when he knew the bank to be insolvent was argued before the Supreme court Thursday. He was vice president of the Citizens bank of Stuart.

Divorces Asked— Two petitions for divorce were filed Thursday in District court. Una Benzing asks a divorce from Elwin Benzing, charging cruelty. Florence R. Linstrom seeks a divorce from Ephraim J. Linstrom on a charge of cruelty. They were married June 4, 1922 at Lincoln.

Verdict Given—John H. Boyd was given a verdict for $117.62 against Nick Arrigo by a District court jury Thursday. Boyd had sued for $1,200, claiming that amount was due him for gardening services rendered Arrigo and V. Quattrocchi. Judge Chappell directed a verdict in favor of Quattrocchi.

McAleer Paroled — W. J. McAleer, 33, who pleaded guilty last week to a charge of child desertion, was paroled by District Judge Broady Thursday for two years to Adult Probation Officer Jack Leonard. The parole directs that McAleer shall provide for his family and also make restitution of all loans made.

Suspects Arrested — Three men were arrested at Vesta Thursday night after a car chase which started at Crab Orchard. County Sheriff Liphardt of Tecumseh informed State Sheriff M. L. Endres Thursday. The trio was seen trying to steal gasoline at Crab Orchard and was captured when the car ran out of fuel, according to Liphardt.

Suit On Trial—Trial of a $15,000 damage suit brought by Katherine Meredith against Claude E. Shamp and Dorothy M. Shamp was started before a jury in District Judge Chappell's court Thursday. The plaintiff claims that while she was riding with Homer L. Reames last August, an automobile driven by Dorothy Shamp collided with the Reames machine six miles south of Lincoln. The Shamps claim the accident was due to negligence on the part of Reames.

Compensation Appeal — Floyd Swanson has appealed a compensation action to the Supreme court. His case against the village of Shickley and its surety was dismissed by the District court because of failure to file notice of appeal from the compensation commissioner's decision within the legal time. Swanson lost an arm and suffered other injuries in an electric shock. The compensation commissioner held he was an official of the village and not an employe and hence could not collect compensation.

Appeal Accounting Case — Knox county appealed to the Supreme court in an effort to collect $2,430 from Robert S. Cook, former county judge and two of his sureties, the American Surety Co. and the Massachusetts Bond and Insurance Co. The District court held that Cook owed the county $988 collected as marriage fees, the Massachusetts company owed $219.75 and the American Surety Co., $653. All four of the parties interested in the suit filed motions for rehearing. The suit was for an accounting of fees collected by the judge, some of which were lost through failure of banks in which funds were deposited.

sional leaders he will ask for no authority to grant immediate debt relief and therefore it is assumed here he will expect the June 15 payments and will take all he can get then with a possible promise for revision of the debt agreements after the London economic parley.

City Refinancing Aid.

As for the domestic program, Mr. Roosevelt was reported today by Mayor James M. Curley of Boston to be ready to aid personally the campaign for legislation which will permit municipalities to adjust their debts upon agreement of a majority of the debtors.

The house has adopted the resolution protecting the rights of New York state on power under the St. Lawrence pact and Mr. Roosevelt is going to ask the senate to act on this before adjournment.

Also, the busy president hopes to put before congress a substantial part of his reorganization program which is now on his desk awaiting only final approval.

With the summer heat really prevailing here there is every prospect that the weary congress will bring its work to a quick conclusion.

WORLD FLIER DESCENDS AT PROKOPIEVSK

shall be able to get off from here with temporary repairs within a few hours and run into Krasnoyarsk, where there are facilities for fixing this stabilizer.

"I have already fixed the gas line leak and I am almost ready to take off as far as repairs are concerned.

"The only thing is that I feel too sick now, and I think I will wait a few hours until I get better."

Asked if he had got any sleep, Mattern replied:

"Not much. I have been working on the ship ever since coming down. But I am not very sleepy and I'll probably pick up some rest at Krasnoyarsk. How is my elapsed time from New York?"

He was assured that he was all right. In response to a question about what his own log said, Mattern replied:

Loses Track of Time.

"Hell! I have lost all track of time."

Asked the exact time he landed, the flier gave the same rejoinder.

"I can't tell you exactly," he explained, "but I was just four hours out of Omsk when I found out what had happened and I came down almost immediately."

"I climbed out of my plane by myself," Mattern continued, "Although I was so groggy I could hardly stand. Before I knew it there were a lot of people around me, but I could not understand the questions they were shooting at me.

"They took me into a nearby house and by that time they found somebody who spoke English. They tried to put me to bed, but I only sat down a few minutes and then went back to the plane."

"They have been awfully good to me, giving me hot drinks and food, but I can't keep any of it down. As soon as I get these fumes out of my system I'll be all right."

Mattern's landing place was five kilometers (about three miles) from the little industrial settlement of Belovo, where miners of the surrounding Kutznetz coal basin have their homes.

To get him on the telephone it was necessary to communicate first with the manager of the Belovo telegraph station, in which is the town's only telephone line to the outside world, and to prevail upon the manager to send an automobile to get the flier. Some three hours elapsed between the time the request was made to the manager and the time the aviator's voice came over the telephone into the Associated Press bureau in Moscow.

hold a referendum on the beer law which goes into effect on August 10. The boycott action and the circulation of remonstrance petitions would not be necessary if 10 per cent of the voters signed petitions for a referendum, since this would automatically suspend operation of the beer law until the geenral election in 1934.

The boycott resolution, which will be acted upon at the mass meeting, provides that "legal or illegal, drys will not use 3.2 beer; trade where it is sold; subscribe for papers that advocate or advertise it; or vote for anyone whose action or inaction aided the beer fight."

Petitions Need Half Voters.

Remonstrance petitions, in order to prevent the issuance of beer licenses in any city, village or county, must contain the signature of 50 per cent of the legal voters as shown by the polling list used at the last election. Hutton calls for circulation of these petitions in every city, village and rural community.

Speaking of the boycott resolution, which calls for drys not to vote for anyone whose "inaction" aided the beer fight, Hutton said, "I don't know whether that would be interpreted as meaning one who failed to veto the beer bill."

"Nebraska will stay dry if stay-at-homes go to the polls," Hutton contended. "A national survey of wet-and-dry elections, local state and national, shows drys have won every election when as much as 70 per cent of the possible voters voted on the question."

The call also contains the following comment on Postmaster General James Farley, who is to talk at a number of democratic rallies in Nebraska this summer:

"Announcement is made that Jim Farley, ex-prize fighter, who managed the Roosevelt campaign last fall and is leading the repeal fight now, is coming to Nebraska for eight meetings in July. No doubt he seeks to organize and inspire the repeal forces. Let's organize and inspire the drys—and do it first."

Roosevelt's Son Elliott, and Wife Planning Divorce

at 5.51 a. m.. (Pacific standard time) today for Washington, D. C.

Her unannounced departure by plane ended a stay of less than 36 hours in Los Angeles where she came to visit her son.

Young Roosevelt, who only a short time ago became general manager of a west coast airline after leaving the east with the announced intention of obtaining a position which in nowise could be said to have political significance, stated he would leave shortly for Reno.

The disclosure came as Mrs. Roosevelt left her hotel in company with Elliott enroute to the United airport at Burbank. Thirty minutes later the party, which included Mrs. Isabella Greenway, democratic national committeewoman for Arizona, left the United airport for Saugus because fog made a takeoff at Burbank hazardous. At Saugus a special ship awaited.

At the hotel entrance Mrs. Roosevelt said in reply to a question that the divorce was in prospect and then Elliott, at her elbow, confirmed his mother's statement.

Beyond the bare announcement that the divorce action was to be instituted in Nevada, neither Elliott nor his mother cared to comment much.

Wife to Seek Divorce.

Elliott added, however, that the divorce will be sought by his wife, the former Elizabeth Donner, daughter of William H Donner of Philadelpha, industrialist, on grounds of incompatibility.

The couple has been separated since last year. An agreement is understood to have been reached as to the custody of their child, William Donner Roosevelt, born last November. They were married January 16, 1932.

When Elliott came to the west coast his wife and baby did not accompany him.

Mrs. Roosevelt was accompanied on the plane, which will make an initial stop at Tucson, Ariz., by C. R. Smith, general manager of the airline; Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth newspaper publisher, and Mrs. Greenway.

Her pilot was J. William Martin, jr., brother of Eddie Martin, who piloted Mrs. Roosevelt into Los Angeles Monday

Wife Declines to Comment

PHILADELPHIA, June 8 — (AP) — Mrs Elliott Roosevelt, whose marital trouble was publicly disclosed today by her husband's mother, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, is maintaining a strict silence.

Neither she nor her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Donner of Villanova, near here, would make any statement.

Mr. Donner, millionaire former steel man, said if and when he had any statement to make he would see that the public got it.

News that the wedded life of the 21-year-old heiress and the 22-year-old second son of President Roosevelt was not running smoothly did not come as a surprise to society in and about Philadelphia, but not one word of the difficulty had been authorized for publication.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who was Elizabeth Browning Donner before her marriage, has been staying at the Donner estate, 'Camp Woods," at Villanova, since the inauguration of the president. She has been much entertained by society.

Two weeks after the inauguration she visited the white house. Several weeks ago, Mrs. James Roosevelt of New York, mother of the president, was a visitor at the Donner home.

The young son of the Elliott Roosevelts, William Donner Roosevelt, born in New York, November 17, last year, is with his mother.

The president, while governor of New York, visited the Donner home twice. The first time was shortly after the engagement of the young couple was announced on October 30, 1931, and the second time at the wedding, January 16, last year.

After the wedding, which was an outstanding event in social circles here, the Roosevelts took up their residence in New York, where the young husband was in business.

Stops at Tucson.

TUCSON, Ariz., June 8—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, on a return trip to Washington from Los Angeles, arrived here by special plane at 11:10 a. m., (mountain standard time) today. She left at 11:15 a. m., after the ship had been refueled.

Pender Man Grand Master of Masons

The Nebraska grand lodge, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, at its seventy-sixth annual communication at Omaha this week elected Archie M. Smith of Pender as grand master for the coming year. Mr. Smith appointed Walter R. Raecke, Central City grand senior deacon, and William J. Breckenridge, Hastings, grand junior deacon.

THOMPSON ASKS REVENUE POST FOR O'MLALEY

disposition of federal patronage for Nebraska, with Senator Thompson acting on behalf of Governor Bryan's state organization and National Committeeman Mullen insisting that he be given a voice in the selections.

Thompson's object clearly is to get the appointment for internal revenue collector made by the president at once and confirmed by the senate before congress adjourns, so that O'Malley can take over the office immediately.

Mullen, whose astuteness in politics has often been demonstrated, is thought to be playing the game in such a way as to block an immediate appointment. If he can do this, the president could name an internal revenue collector for Nebraska after congress adjourns, to serve as a recess appointee until it reconvenes next fall. The national committeeman has considerable influence at the white house and might have a good deal to say about who the man shall be.

Mullen Suggested Nine.

In Mullen's list of nine persons suggested for the collectorship are several personal and political friends of congressmen in four districts. For the second, he names R. L. Metcalfe and John Mattes of Omaha and Chris Larson of Decatur; in the third, J. C. Byrnes and D. A. Becher, both of Columbus; in the fourth, W. J. Furse of Alma, Charles Smrha of Milligan, and Mrs. C. G. Ryan of Grand Island; and in the fifth, A. A. Hastings of North Platte.

Mrs. Ryan is democratic national committeewoman for Nebraska and lives in Senator Thompson's home town, which may embarrass the senator to some extent in refusing to recommend her.

Mullen proposed no one from the first congressional district, represented by Congressman Morehead. Phil Tomek, one of the leading candidates for internal revnue collector, lives in this district and has Morehead's backing. Mullen is opposing Tomek, but evidently thought it politically diplomatic not to suggest anyone else in this district.

Havelock Crops Held For Price Rise Are Burned

Three thousand bushels of corn and 300 bushels of oats A. B. Feather was holding for higher prices on his farm three miles east and five miles north of Havelock were destroyed early Thursday morning by a fire of undetermined origin.

Besides the corn crib and the granary that housed the grains, a large barn and a 16-ton hay stack were burned. Consumed within the barn were two hogs and several sets of harness.

Total loss probably will reach $5,000, Mr. Feather estimated after examining the ruins. The buildings were insured but not the contents.

Lincoln and Waverly fire departments were called after Mrs. Leona Feather, the farmer's wife, was awakened by the crackling of the burning barn. The fire had gained too much headway to be stopped and a strong wind blew the flames dangerously close to the house at several different times. Firemen succeeded in saving the home.

NEW BIDS TAKEN ON REGRAVELING

Highway Department Gets Offers on Material For Resurfacing.

Low bids on a third of the 39 gravel maintenance projects included in the letting Thursday had been determined by the state engineer's office Thursday afternoon. The letting was the second held this month at which bids were taken on supplying gravel to be used for resurfacing of highways. About the same amount of gravel was included in the letting this week as the previous one when contracts amounted to about $90,000.

Low bidders on projects determined so far follow:

WIND STORMS BREAK STATE HEAT PERIOD

Madison. Minor damage was done to small buildings in Madison.

Hail, carried by a 61-mile an hour wind, rained down on North Platte a quarter of an hour. About a quarter of an inch of rain fell. Property damage was minor, but gardens and other vegetation suffered heavily. The high winds and hail undoubtedly caused widespread damage to crops throughout the storm area, but complete reports were lacking. Communication lines were own in many localities.

At Lyons, a store roof was reported blown off, windows were smashed and trees uprooted.

At Omaha, the first death directly attributable to the heat was recorded when 4-months-old Dolores Lotspeich succumbed last night to heat prostration. The child was a twin, the other having died at birth.

Nearly $150,000 Damage.

NORFOLK, Neb., June 8—(AP)—Between $100,000 and $150,000 damage to crops and buildings at Winner, S. D., resulted from one of the worst hail storms in the history of the Rosebud region yesterday afternoon.

The storm struck about 5:30 p. m., and hailstones, some of which weighed half a pound, broke every plate glass window on the exposed side of the streets in the business section.

The crop damage was heavy, the storm hitting an area forty miles long and five miles wide.

Two Injured.

STANTON, Neb., June 8—(AP)—Two men working on farms near Stanton were injured when loads of hay on which they were working were toppled over by tornadic winds which swept this region yesterday afternoon, leaving considerable destruction in their wake. Harry Haselbrook and Clarence Raabe were injured.

Hail At McCook.

McCOOK, Neb., June 8—(AP)—A terrific hail storm cooled off this section of Nebraska yesterday afternoon but damaged crops. The extent of damage was not ascertained immediately.

opposed the paving. E. H. Holms was the only advocate.

Cline Urges New Route.

Mr. Cline suggested the possibility of a new thoroughfare along the north edge of the university property. To pave now, he said, would be expensive and poor public policy, as it will be but a few years before it will be destroyed in carrying on the university extension program.

Mr. Cline also told of the difficulty in obtaining money for land purchases, because of the attitude of legislators. "Their attitude is wrong," he said, "but nevertheless they blame Lincoln for campus consolidation being voted down, and resent Lincoln 'never doing anything for the university, but always demanding something that will be a benefit to the city.'"

Holms declared that W street is one of the most heavily used streets in the city, nearly all of the traffic being by trucks. He protested the closing of W street, declaring that if that is done there will be no other way for trucks to go from Tenth street to the Fourteenth street industrial district, without driving many blocks out of the way. Vine street from Eleventh street to Tenth, was closed by the city, he charged, "on the promise of the university that another route would be opened from Tenth to Fourteenth street."

committee power for examination of stock transactions by which partners of the Morgan firm reduced their income taxes. There was not a ripple of opposition

The committee simultaneously was hearing from Van Swearingen that the special corporation device used in some Van Sweringen railroad operations to escape income tax payment had on one occasion removed liability for tax on $13,000,000.

Testifying for the fourth day, the Ohioan recited his answers to Ferdinand Pecora—committee counsel—in a voice audible to few of the much smaller than usual crowd that had gathered

J. P. Morgan and various of his partners again were present but paid little attention to proceedings at the start.

The attitude the Morgan partners will take as a result of the latest senate move to uncover the income tax reducing transactions remains to be seen.

Gould Tells of Work By Salvation Army

"In Life's Back Yards," a talk on the work of the Salvation Army, was given by Verne W. Gould, program director of the Salvation Army with headquarters in Chicago, speaking before the Lions club at the chamber of commerce Thursday noon. Mr. Gould has given his talk before several luncheon clubs in the city recently.

HOME LOAN BANK TO GRAND ISLAND

Nebraska Delegation Votes In Favor Of That City.

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—The Nebraska congressional delegation and Arthur Mullen, democratic national committeeman, met behind closed doors Wednesday afternoon and voted to recommend Grand Island as the location for the main office for state administration of the home loan act. The vote was four for Grand Island, two for Omaha and one for North Platte.

Personnel of the office was not decided, but was deferred to a later meeting. The group also voted to recommend branch offices in Omaha, Norfolk, Lincoln and Scottsbluff. William Stevenson, chairman of the federal home loan bank board, said today the administration would be guided insofar as possible by the delegation's recommendation for a location, but would not follow it if the selection was considered unwise.

The belief was expressed by certain congressmen that Omaha might still have the main office. It was not definite that a branch office could be established in each district, Stevenson said.

The vacancy on the federal Reconstruction Finance corporation board caused by the resignation of Gardner Cowles of Des Moines was discussed. It is known that the post will go to a midwestern republican, but no definite action has been taken. The name of former Congressman Robert Simmons of Scottsbluff was mentioned.

(Special to The Star.)

YUTAN, Neb., June 8—About 80 ministers and delegates from Nebraska and nearby states are attending the annual meeting of the German Nebraska synod, a district of the United Lutheran church in America, being held here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. District officers are, Rev. F. Schuldt, Hastings, president; Rev. W. Harder, Ohiowa, vice president; Rev. R. Moehring, Fontenelle, secretary; Rev. F. Nolte, Westboro, Mo., treasurer; Rev. Charles Sick, Fremont, senior of the ministerium.

SYRACUSE COUPLE WEDDED 54 YEARS

(Special to The Star.)

SYRACUSE, Neb., June 8—To celebrate the fifty-fourth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rider of Syracuse, Monday, children and grandchildren came to the home to spend the evening.

In conjunction with this celebration one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Wolfe and her husband observed their twenty-sixth anniversary.

A feature o fthe party, a gold and white cake on top of which a tiny bride and groom were set was the gift of a daughter, Mrs. Frank Wolfe.

Mr. and Mrs. Rider were married at Nebraska City, June 5, 1879. They have five children, who annually spend a part o fthe day with their parents.

Substitute Carrier Under Indictment

OMAHA, June 8—(AP)—Garnet E. Davis, Grand Island substitute mail carrier, was indicted by a federal grand jury here today on a charge of theft from the mails. He is accused of opening a letter to remove $2.25, which had been placed there by Postal Inspector J. A. Bradley after other losses had been reported. The grand jury, which has been in session since May 31, returned 103 indictments, 25 of them secret.

APPEAL REFUSAL OF DEFICIENCY

Repeal Act Involved In Case Taken Before Supreme Court.

An attempt to take immediate advantage of the legislative act repealini the deficiency judgment was made in a case argued before the Supreme court Thursday.

The appeal to the Supreme court was made by the First Trust Co. of Omaha from an order of the District court in Douglas county denying the motion of the trust company for a deficiency judgment against Abe Levey. The company foreclosed on a mortgage given by the Glendale Realty Co., of which Abe Levey and Joe Lapidus were formerly joint owners. The company bid $28,500 at the foreclosure sale on the property in question and asked for a deficiency judgment of $1,153.

A supplemental brief was filed with the court Thursday by Harry Silverman, attorney for Levey, in which he pointed out that since filing briefs in the case the legislature had passed the deficiency judgment cat with the emergency clause. He argues that this "effectually dsiposes" of the contention of the trust company.

Silverman said that in his opinion the legislature had declared that the courts no longer have the power to enter a deficiency judgment either against the mortgagor or against any person who may have signed with him. The act is reproduced in his brief.

A question which may have to be settled by the court is whether the deficiency judgment act actually carried the emregency clause placini it in effect immediately or whether it does not become a law until August 10. While the emergency clause is found in the body of the law, it was not included in the title.

Grand Island—A. J. Denman, president Nebraska Manufacturers' association; Ernest Bennison, Dave Trail.

Beatrice—Clyde B. Dempster.

Legion Purchases Railroad Station For Headquarters

PONCA, Neb., June 8—(AP)— The Ponca American Legion post and its auxiliary purchased the railroad station building and the ground on which it is located at the salvage sale of the Wynot branch railway. The legion plans to improve the property. The stockyards here sold for $247 and were bought by the city to be used for stock sales. The Newcastle station was sold to a school district northeast of there. The building will be moved and remodeled for use as a school house. The consideration was $120.

CONGREGATIONAL WOMEN'S RETREAT

(Special to The Star.)

CRETE, Neb., June 8—Congregational women from the entire state are holding a retreat Thursday and Friday on the Doane campus. The meeting is a training school for leaders and is being sponsored by Mrs. Ervine Inglis of Lincoln, who is president of Congregational women of Nebraska. This is the first time a meeting of this kind has been held. Hostesses are Mesdames Edwin B. Dean, R. B. Porter, S. L. Mains and C. H. Velte, all of Crete. The women who are regional presidents will preside at the meeting.

City Boys Desiring Farm Courses Cause Problem—Clements

The second day of the annual conference for vocational agriculture instructors in Nebraska opened at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture Thursday with discussions of what to do with town boys who want to take agriculture.

Twenty per cent of the boys enrolled in vocational agriculture classes last year lived in town, L. D. Clements, supervisor of instructions, said. Since the courses are intended for boys who live on the farms, it is sometimes hard for the boys in town to keep up the quality of their work, Clements pointed out.

"When the boys in the Future Farmers chapter take hold of community activities and school affairs, they stir up a lot of interest and also develop leadership, H. F. Peters of Hastings and Ralph Vose of Grant reported. Vern Jones of Anselmo discussed the depression workshop.

Present Economic System Defended By Prof. Bullock

A defense of our economic system, which he declared contained "great possibilities" if properly controlled, was presented by Prof. Theodore Bullock, of the University of Nebraska, speaking before the Optimist club at the Cornhusker hotel Thursday noon.

Comparing the present system with others he declared, ' Dur system is productive, flexible developing, and in a large measure automatic. "Because it contains such great possibilities when properly controlled it would be foolish for us to abandon it. We have reached a point where intelligent control primarily in the iterest of the great masses will yield the largest dividends to all.

Marsh Ouster Argued Before Supreme Court

The ouster action against Richardson County Treasurer Ora O. Marsh was argued before the Supreme court Thursday.

The Hreferee's report t othe court had recommended that Marsh be moved from office, claiming that he had been in default to the county at the time he was elected and that he had been a consistent borrower from the county cash funds. Attorney General Paul F. Good and County Attorney James Falloon of Falls City argued for ousting of Marsh.

The treasurer was represented by F. N. Prout, D. D. Reavis and John C. Mullen as attorneys. They contend that Marsh owes the county nothing at the present time and that he never touched tax money, but only used funds which he believed he was entitled to for issuing automobile registrations.

Buffalo and Pawnee Reaccredited Areas

Reaccreditation of Buffalo and Pawnee counties as tuberculosis free areas was announced Thursday by Dr. H. L. Feistner, state veterinarian. State veterinarians are now testing cattle for tuberculosis in Hall and York counties. The reaccreditation in Buffalo and Pawnee dates from June 1.

National Treasurer Of Woodmen Circle Succumbs at Omaha

OMAHA, June 8—(AP)— The body of Mrs. Annie E. Watts, 62, national treasurer of the Woodmen Circle and a national director of the organization, was started on its way to Meridian, Miss., her home, this morning. A guard of honor composed of drill team members accompanied the body to the union station.

Mrs. Watts died here yesterday. She had been in ill health since arriving here two weeks ago for the national convention and last Sunday her condition became serious. For an hour last night, the body lay in state in the new Circle headquarters building here. Mrs. Watts had come to Omaha for the ceremonies marking the official opening of the building.

TARAN WILL FIGHT EXTRADITION; SET HEARING JUNE 20

Word that Sam Taran will fight extradition to Nebraska on bank robbery charges was ereceived Thursday by State Sheriff M. L. Endres. Illinois authorities have set a hearing on the extradition request for June 20.

Witnesses of the Fairbury bank robbery had planned to leave Wednesday for Chicago to view the suspect. They will wait now until time for the hearing. The recent arrest of Taran, ex-Minnesota convict, at Chicago came after an attempt was made to dispose of Fairbury bonds to a Chicago bank, police allege.

"—my skin became clear"

—wouldn't you like to be able to say this, too? Then pause a moment and reason . . . skin affections usually result because of lowered resistance from below the skin surface. Then help the blood that purifies the skin, by increasing its red-cells and restoring the vital oxygen-carrying hemoglobin in these cells so that more vitality comes to the tissues. This will increase the ability of the blood to devour infectious pimple germs.

FAR AHEAD IN QUALITY

This de luxe Majestic is America's outstanding value in a big but economical 2-door refrigerator. Low price, convenient terms. Note these quality and convenience features:—Electro-Sealed COLD DOME, guaranteed 3 years; Shelf area, 16.4 sq. ft.; 105 ice cubes, 5 trays; Economy of operation unsurpassed by any electric refrigerator with equal food-storage space.

Majestic can offer you this remarkable guarantee because Majestic design and construction make possible such a guarantee.

See the Majestic Electro-Sealed COLD DOME. This dome of steel fused to steel encloses the heart of refrigeration—the motor and compressor. Within its walls, which dirt, dampness, and abuse cannot penetrate, the refrigerating unit runs in a bath of oil—good for a lifetime of wear.

In ordinary refrigerators the vital mechanism is exposed. No matter how good it is, in time it must suffer from that exposure. No refrigerator with exposed mechanism attempts to match Majestic's unconditional 3-year guarantee on the Electro-Sealed COLD DOME.

Compare guarantees. And compare prices—but don't be misled by apparently low prices on undersized refrigerators. You will discover that Majestic Refrigeration costs from $35 to $75 less than ordinary hermetically sealed refrigerators—and actually no more, size for size, than the exposed-mechanism type.

If you are interested in longer-lasting, better refrigeration—and greatest value for your money—be sure and see Majestic!

NOT INTERESTED.

WITH the advance guard of the American delegation to the London economic conference nearing its destination, the reports touching upon the success of the efforts to stabilize currencies and to level tariff barriers are far less encouraging than they were. The immediate reaction to the Roosevelt appeal which was sent to fifty-four nations fanned hopes greatly. Since then, the backwash has set in with its inevitable discouragement.

And, why should America be disturbed? The irreconcilable nationalist, the die-hard isolationist, grin broadly in finding confirmation of their expressed opinions. They said that it was impossible to get the world together in mutual effort, and their statement of their position will be established through the failure of the London economic conference to accomplish really worthwhile results. It isn't a matter for serious worry or anxiety. Only 10 per cent of American trade is international in character and the 90 per cent is domestic. Why should 10 per cent prove so gravely destructive?

The figures do not present an accurate picture. The 90 per cent described as domestic attains its huge volume because it embraces, not one, but several transactions or processes. It goes first from the raw material to the factories, to be processed or placed in the finished state. It goes from the factory to the jobber, and from the jobber to the retailer, and from the retailer to the ultimate consumer. In the case of the 10 per cent, the figures are far more impressive, bearing far more important relationships to ultimate consumption and to the agricultural and industrial activities of America, than can be projected by the bare figures. In the main, our exports consist of raw materials. There is only one transaction to be considered in computing the aggregate volume of trade. We export grains, meat, scores of items which originate on the farm, and this 10 per cent is of the most extreme importance to the American farmer.

Beyond that, there are other considerations to which the die-hard isolationist closes his eyes. The world cannot keep on spending double or treble what it expended prior to 1914 for armament in anticipation of future warfare. It was a crushing burden then, which subjected millions of people to unbearable hardships, lower living standards, and the sacrifice of comforts, for money which is spent on battle ships and cannon cannot be utilized for food and clothing and improved homes.

THE United States cannot proceed on the theory that what was true in the past is now true in our own inherent capacity to establish satisfactory conditions through a national program of self-containment. There has been a positive demonstration of it in the last three years. The punishment of the depression, its duration or length, the slowness of recovery, all furnish eloquent testimony that there is a new day in America. That new day arises from the fact that new lands, easy of settlement and development, no longer exist. If additional land is to provide homes and a livelihood for people, it can be had solely through heavy expense in reclamation from natural disadvantages. The last great depression which visited the United States, if 1921 is to be ignored, was in 1907, in which an overflow population, numbering millions, found both homes and a livelihood in the three new states of Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Arizona. North of them, Wyoming, Montana, and Idaho could be said to be just starting, and in Nebraska, the development which has taken place since 1907 provided a great potential market. When land is finally settled, when homes are built, when equipment is acquired, the potential market is diminished within a nation, although homes need repairs and refurnishing and equipment wears out.

That is what has been going on in the United States. It is not here that the beckoning finger may be seen today, but elsewhere where there are raw frontiers, where the demand is for lumber, for steel, for building materials of all kinds, and for all of the necessary accompaniments of a settled civilization. If it shall be isolation, and self-government, then we are approaching the stabilized era in America's history. Our population may grow, and the experts compute that it will reach 140 millions, near which figure it will remain stationary. Then begins the process of disintegration, such as has been taking place in the oldest sections of the United States for several years.

While the American delegation is nearing London, while the hour for representatives of many nations to gather around the table draws near, there should be some honest appreciation of the real factors involved in these deliberations.

A REMARKABLE RECORD IN RAILROADING.

A WELL earned tribute to the efficiency of the Northwestern railroad's management and its corps of operating employes is found in the top rating it has received during the past three years in the avoidance of accidents causing loss of life or personal injury to the road's employes and its patrons.

A ratio of only 2 such casualties to every million man hours among the worker force during the period of the last two years is a most remarkable showing. That mark could not have been attained without exercise of the utmost carefulness on the part of everyone in the railroad's service from the president and general manager down to the section laborers.

In advertising this notable record the Northwestern organization is justly entitled to claim premier rank in the matter of assuring the safety of its patrons and those who move the trains, keep the rolling stock in repair, and look after the maintenance of tracks and signal apparatus. There can be no doubt that unremitting attention has been given to all these important phases of the transportation business. Such results could not have been attained under any loose system of supervision or by "don't care" methods of operation.

Of course, the Northwestern railroad will profit by holding down accidents to a minimum. It has fewer damage claims to pay; its liability for compensation to injured employes and the families of those killed in service is reduced; and losses of equipment destroyed or damaged are greatly increased. This, too, should make possible a considerable lowering of expense in the claims department.

Most railroad companies are working in the same direction. They have found that good business policy runs parallel with humanitarianism. Installation and use of protective devices are proving good investments. But more than that, the universal observance of caution has demonstrated its worth in dollars and cents.

The general public is not without obligation in helping the rail carriers to minimize accidents. It can do this by observing signals and not trying to drive cars over railroad crossings ahead of approaching trains; by not walking along tracks; by exercising personal care in boarding and leaving trains; and in other ways.

ILLINOIS REPEATS.

WHEN Illinois piled up enormous majorities for both national and state democratic tickets last November, the results occasioned a great deal of surprise, although forecast in advance. The outcome was the result of accumulated republican troubles, starting with the "Big Bill" Thompson regime in Chicago and extending to the Len Small administration at Springfield. But Illinois had been so solidly and so substantially republican, so unwavering in its support of the party, that it was felt the November election was expressive merely of the bloodless revolution which swept the entire country.

The first test since November came Tuesday, when Illinois voted on judicial offices. It again brought a complete democratic sweep.

The outcome is the more remarkable because all of the Chicago press had fought the democratic candidates, the Chicago Bar association had endorsed the republican aspirants, and the support outstate was expected to be overwhelmingly republican. Two factors are mentioned as responsible for the Tuesday upset. The first and the most important is Roosevelt's popularity among the people of Illinois. The second is the demoralization which exists within the republican party of Illinois. It is apparent now that it must go through the painful and distasteful task of ousting completely the "Big Bill" Thompson-Len Small element, which, while not active in the latest contest, still is associated with the party.

The result constitutes a smashing rebuke for the Chicago Tribune, which has been attacking the Roosevelt administration vigorously on the ground it has brought a professorial group to Washington to inaugurate a rule of Sovietism in America.

THE VILLAGE SMITHY.

NO MORE significant item appeared in the news columns Thursday than a special dispatch from Oketo, Kas., telling of the opening of a blacksmith and wagon repair shop there in a specially constructed new building. It is the first shop of that type to be maintained in Oketo in years.

The item tells its own story of a great transition that is taking place on the farms in the middle west. The horse and the wagon are coming back. They are being utilized for farm work more than they have been any time in the last decade and a half.

For years, the village blacksmith occupied a unique position. The poet immortalized him. But even the poet could not reveal fully the interest and the admiration with which the small boys of the villages looked upon the smith. There was a challenge in the ring of the hammer upon red hot steel, a flight of the imagination in every shower of blazing sparks. There was a saga in the swelling muscles and the bared throat and chest. The smith did his work carefully and well; the trade had its own standards of artisanship and probably no trade ever provoked a greater feeling of pride in a job well done than that of the village blacksmith.

In the '20s, the blacksmiths all but ceased to exist. They were as much a part of the past as the livery stable, and as each year brought on a higher trade mortality, the public dismissed them with a thought they would be compelled to readjust themselves to the new conditions. Not the least of the many interesting developments of this rehabilitation period are the frequent announcements of the reopening of blacksmith shops.

ATTA BOY! SKIPPER.

THREE great big cheers for Skipper Daniel F. McAllister of New York.

The reason for the cheers goes back a long ways. It involves a long list of offenses (worthy of nothing less than capital punishment) to men.

There is the somewhat recent attempt of some women to swipe men's britches and convert them into public feminine apparel.

There have been the various mannish types of hair cuts for women. In addition, where is the man with soul so low that he does not boil at the invasion of the barber shops, once man's great refuge.

Women have flaunted the men by duplicating ocean flights and business intelligence; they have snatched the highest governmental posts including the diplomatic service; they have broken the bounds of home and invaded the golf course; in fact there is very little they haven't done to enrage a righteously proud man.

But to get back to the skipper. He has earned eternal fame by refusing to allow a woman employer to paint his ship pink.

MAKE PETER AND PAUL BOTH PAY.

SHOULD the federal government, as the next step in rehabilitating national finances, decide to remove the tax exemption feature from all public bond issues of the United States, the various states, and their subdivisions, that step will receive the same popular approval which has been given to the legislation doing away with the gold payment clause.

Abolishing tax exemption would be a logical follow-up of the latter measure. When congress adopted the president's recommendation to make all debts, public and private, payable in any kind of legal tender money, it released debtors from an undue hardship. Putting bonds in the class of taxable property would be merely requiring the holders of these securities to contribute their fair share to the cost of maintaining the government which protects and stands behind their investments.

So long as exemption is permitted, many wealthy persons and large corporations will be able to evade the income tax laws and other people will have to pay more than if everybody were bearing part of the burden.

Probably no other field of taxation offers a more fruitful source of income than a levy on federal, state and local bonds or the income derived from them. On the United States obligations alone, totaling 21 billion dollars, the government pays out no less than three-quarters of a billion dollars yearly interest. Those who receive this vast income pay no tax upon it, nor are the bonds themselves subject to property tax. That is an unfair advantage for one group of moneyed persons to hold over the general citizenship of the country.

Abrogation of the gold payment clause was requested by President Roosevelt and approved by congress on the broad ground of public policy. It is not conducive to the common welfare to let creditors select one particular kind of money and demand that obligations due them be paid in it, particularly when that kind of money is out of circulation and impossible to get.

The national welfare will also justify doing away with tax exemption on bond investments. That is the only way to reach vast amounts of wealth now escaping its duty to society. To continue the immunity enjoyed by favored investors is inconsistent with the American idea of equal rights to all and special privileges to none.

When bonds are subjected to taxation, two collateral benefits will be felt. One will be to put a curb on unnecessary spending by national, state, and local governments which involves going into debt. The other will be to force idle capital back into productive industries, instead of seeking investment in tax-exempt securities.

Everyday Questions

ANSWERED BY
DR. S. PARKES CADMAN
(Copyright, 1933, New York Tribune)

Questions from Lincoln Star readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, of the Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

QUESTION.
South Bend, Ind.

What in your opinion is the chief function to be performed by the churches at the present time?

ANSWER.

To remind the nations that God is the Father of all men, and that so long as their peoples are repressed by hate and fear they must be at variance with the Divine government which exercises ultimate control. Until men everywhere can say "We love Him because He first loved us" and our love of Him is expressed in sacrificial service for each and all of our kind, the world will tread a path of darkness and destruction.

Nor does this creed of life mean merely sentimental piety. On the contrary, it exceeds even kindliness and good will. It bids us see all men in Divine love's transforming light so that their problems may be handled sympathetically and practically. The way of love knows no fear, leads from suspicion to friendliness, from friendliness to sacrifice, from sacrifice to brotherhood, from brotherhood to blessedness.

Mankind is at present on the wrong road, and the antics of its would-be guides show they, too, are bewildered and uncertain. John Milton sang of the unconquerable will and courage never to submit. But these virtues are wasted if they drive us into the thickets of error instead of the avenues of truth.

So the Churches have to reassure and practice anew the dynamic of that divine affection which works in faith and hope. When its pulsations vibrate in them they will banish the stagnancy and despair infecting the popular mind. Moreover, what they ought to do should be done quickly. This republic has to feed and clothe the bodies of the needy, but only God can save our souls, and all believing men and women are enlisted as His allies.

QUESTION.
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Having read your answers to correspondents for some time I have come to the conclusion that as between being and doing you prefer doing. Is this so or not? Personally I follow Walter Pater, who said that being "in some shape or other is the principle of all the higher morality." Is there not more being than doing in God?

ANSWER.

I have no decided preference for either being or doing. What one is and one does are so closely interrelated that I am not concerned to separate what God has obviously joined together. Of course, being is prior to doing and determines its quality. We do not gather figs from thistles. As the inward man is so will his outward actions be. Your favorite author, Walter Pater, was in many ways a choice spirit. But he deeply believed contemplation was the end of life.

In this I beg leave to differ. Contemplation is life's half-way house and not its goal. Every successful life is subjected to constant forethought, but unless the deed crowns the process it is never complete. This principle, I believe, is universally true, and its neglect is as sure to spell disaster as its observance is to avoid it. The essential thing is an adequate balance between the cultivation of a strong personality and its manifestation in service. We are all composites of what we are and what we do. We can think till we grow remote and squeamish, and we can act till we run out of definite and worthy objectives at which to aim.

Your theological question has a medieval flavor, and perhaps I ought to refer you to Duns Soctus or St. Thomas Aquinas for your answer. Yet Jesus said "The Father worketh"; He is the Eternal Doer whose ceaseless activities robe the cosmos in light and purpose. I suggest that there is little practical value in theoretical calculations about God's inertia or activity. Indeed, I cannot conceive the God Christ portrayed as self-excluded from the grim struggle which taxes His human offspring to the utmost.

QUESTION.
Glens Falls, N. Y.

What, if any, is the difference between the expressions a "God-loving people" and a "God-fearing people?"

ANSWER.

The Biblical phrase "the fear of the Lord" is hallowed by immemorial usage. It implies reverent awe, not servile dread, and expresses the worshipful attitude of the creature in his approach to his Creator. We do not adore what we cannot revere, and for this reason reverence is the gateway of true religion.

No essential is more notable for its absence than "the fear of the Lord" as thus understood. It is, indeed, "the beginning of wisdom." The Scriptural complaint that God is not even in the thoughts of His children is manifestly true today. When He is forgotten moral standards are weakened, and consequently private and public behavior degenerate. Moreover, pure love and reverence are inseparably associated. The natural affection inspired by impulse is one quality; that inspired by wonder and amazement before the holiness of the Almighty is another and a much higher quality. It has a superior ethical strength imparted to those who cultivate it.

The "God-fearing people" are, therefore, "God-loving people." Let us not divide the factors entering into the worship of our Eternal Father. This function requires the united energies of our entire being. We have to bring to it every righteous thought and sacred emotion. The fact that many who bow the knee do not bow the heart and mind in the Divine Presence explains why they seek His House reluctantly, if at all, and also why they depart from it unblessed. A renewed consciousness of the Infinite God would transform their lives and consecrate afresh their pursuit to the loftiest purposes.

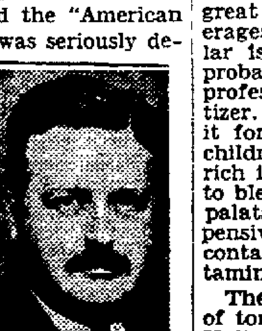
Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

QUALITIES OF FRUIT JUICES THAT MAKE THEM NUTRITIOUS.

In the early days of the soda-water fountain and the "American iced lemonade," it was seriously debated in text books on medicine whether or not this would not ruin the digestion, cause an army of dyspeptics, and in the case of the iced drinks, cause shock, paralysis of the intestinal tract, and other horrors. Although these ideas have nearly all passed away, it may be interesting to inquire into the exact physiologic action of these substances, and perhaps the cause of their popularity.



Dr Clendening

In general, beverages can be divided into three classes—refreshing, nutritious and stimulating.

We discussed refreshing beverages yesterday, and noted that their refreshing quality was almost entirely due to their ability to quench thirst by replacing the water lost in perspiration.

Almost all refreshing beverages are also nutritious in the sense that they have sugar. The fruit juices contribute vitamins. Within the last few years there has been a great increase in the nutritious beverages used. One of the most popular is tomato juice. The public is probably indebted to the medical profession for this pleasant appetizer. Dr. Alfred Hess introduced it for the prevention of scurvy in children because he found it was rich in Vitamin C; that it was able to blend with milk, and that it was palatable. It is slightly less expensive than other fruit juices which contain the anti-scurvy factor, Vitamin C.

The manufacturing, bottling, etc., of tomato juice is regulated by the United States department of agriculture, and by most states through their public health departments and pure food and drugs acts. I have watched the process of bottling and canning tomato juice, and am able to testify that it is done under cleanly and efficient conditions. Most manufacturers include some of the pulp in the juice, which guarantees that Vitamin A will be present.

Tomato juice contains three vitamins— A, B and C—in good quantities. A good-sized glass contains as much A as a teaspoonful of cod liver oil, as much B as three yeast cakes, and as much C as a pound of oranges.

For some of these beverages, beneficial qualities are claimed in that they have a physiologic action on the kidneys and bowels. This is particularly true of sauerkraut juice, and careful experiments have been made by Gehlen of Erlangen, who confirms the fact that sauerkraut juice has a slightly laxative action and also contains certain active substances which stimulate the nervous system.

Just Folks

A THOUGHT.

Were I as rich as Midas
Or poor as Lazarus,
If love would walk beside us
Together we'd discuss
A thousand lovely reasons
For rapture and delight—
The ever-changing seasons,
A wild duck's certain flight.

We'd sit the bright stars under
And watch the moon arise,
And find it joy to wonder
What lies beyond the skies:
We'd hear a blithe bird singing
Its rhapsody of song,
And watch the rivers swinging
Their seaward course along.

We'd hear the ocean booming
Along the sandy shore,
And look at flowers blooming
Beside some humble door;
We'd gaze on green things growing
And marvels everywhere
Beyond our little knowing
And quite forget our care.

In spite of pain or duty,
Or hearts that often ache,
We'd reap the joys of beauty
Beyond man's power to make.
God's works miraculous,
We'd find with love to guide us
Were I as rich as Midas
Or poor as Lazarus.

Another one that show a dirt too easily is the divorce suit.

How unfortunate that America preserved Washington's teeth instead of his backbone.

The chief cost of government is the support of necessary institutions that our fathers never heard about.

Apparently a creditor nation is one that must provide soothing syrup when others threaten to have a tantrum.

But who will provide higher prices for the commodity that white collar men have to sell?

Personally, we rather like times when the head knocker doesn't keep you cooling your heels to show how important he is.

A hick town is a place where you can tell just by looking at a man that he has a dog to sell.

Times will again be normal when you hear nobody muttering sorrowfully that speculation is wicked.

Let's see; armament is a cruel burden, and Germany deserves sympathy because she cant have any.

Poor Dixie. When she gets a president to fit her politics, he's always at odds with her dry conscience.

Whatever metal standard we may be on, you can get service without so much brass.

Aren't laws wonderful? If a state doesn't recognize divorce, a man violates the Mann act when he crosses its line with his wife.

The chain gang is so dreadful that gangsters scornfully refuse to operate in a state that has one.

Life improves. Being horse whipped degraded old timers, but it's no disgrace to be hit with a crank or a jack.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

Farmer Brown's Boy Is Scolded

Determined folk will have their way,
No matter what you do or say.
—Johnny Wren.

There is nothing lazy about Jenny Wren. She has her faults, but laziness is not one of them. Having made up her mind to build a nest in the fishing basket of Farmer Brown's Boy she wasted no time. And she didn't allow Johnny Wren to waste any time either.

"We are late as it is, so don't waste a minute," commanded Jenny.

"Late, are we? Well, whose fault is that I should like to know?" retorted Johnny indignantly.

"Forget it! Forget it and get busy," scolded Jenny.

Johnny muttered as he flew off after material and he was still muttering when he returned to meekly offer what he had found to Jenny.

"Tut, tut, tut, tut!" she scolded. "I don't want to hear another word. Here we are and here we are going to stay, so the sooner you stop talking about it the better."

Johnny Wren isn't one to harbor ill feelings or disappointments for long and soon he was singing as happily as if he and Jenny never had quarreled in their lives, and between songs industriously carrying material into the old basket. He didn't resent it when Jenny threw away some of the things he brought.

Now it happened that neither Farmer Brown, Mother Brown nor Farmer Brown's Boy had noticed what Jenny Wren was doing. They were so used to seeing Jenny and Johnny about the dooryard that there was nothing surprising in seeing one of them dart out of the shed. So it wasn't until when late one afternoon, Farmer Brown's Boy decided to go over to the Laughing Brook to try to catch a trout or two for supper that he learned what was going on. He reached up to take down the fish basket when a tiny brown feather fury literally flew in his face. It was Jenny Wren. How her tongue did fly! Farmer Brown's Boy said afterward that he guessed it was a good thing for his own feelings that he couldn't understand a word she said. But he had no difficulty in understanding what she meant. She meant for him to clear out and keep away. Hearing her scold, Johnny Wren broke off a song right in the middle and joined her.

Now Farmer Brown's Boy hadn't seen where Jenny came from. From her actions he knew that she had a nest close by, but just where he hadn't the least idea. "Now just calm yourself, old lady. I'm not going to touch your nest," said he. "I don't even know where it is and what is more I am not going to look for it now. It is getting late and I want to get some fish for supper.

He backed off somewhat hastily.

He reached up to take down the basket and again a tiny feather bomb seemed to explode right in his very face. Then another did the same thing. He backed off somewhat hastily. "Well, well, well!" he exclaimed. "You two are excited. What is it all about?"

Jenny Wren alighted on the fish basket and popped in out of sight through the hole in the cover. A second later she popped out again still scolding. Farmer Brown's Boy stared at the basket as if he didn't yet quite understand what it all meant. Then he began to chuckle. Despite the scolding by Jenny and Johnny he opened the lid of that basket and peeped inside. Then he chuckled more than ever. There was a completed nest and in it was an egg.

"So," said Farmer Brown's Boy, talking to Jenny just as if she could understand every word he said, "the houses I built for you weren't good enough for you and you must come over here and take possession of my basket. How do you suppose I can go fishing without a basket to put my fish in? It would serve you quite right if I should take this nest out. The idea of taking my basket! The idea!"

To all of which Jenny Wren merely replied: "Tut, tut, tut, tut! Tut, tut, tut, tut!" And Johnny Wren added a few tuts of his own.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

How to Play AND How to Win

By JOSEPHINE CULBERTSON

AN EXIT FORK STRIP.

I must confess that I am almost as greatly intrigued by the names given to some of the more unusual plays at Bridge as by hte plays themselves. Mr. George S. Coffin has written a book, "End-Plays at Bridge Explained," in which he has enriched the vocabulary of bridge with a new terminology, part of which is extremely interesting and all of which, to say the least, is unusual. When you come to such titles as the "Forced Fork Strip" and the "Forced Fork Dodging Strip," you are treading new and unbeaten paths. But these are relatively simple compared with such names as the "Undertrumping and the "Fork Strip Forced Automatic Squeeze." Another interesting name for an end-play is the "Perpetually Retained Squeeze." At last there is something in bridge that never changes!

Mr. Coffin recently sent me the hand below, which he classifies as an "Exit Fork Strip." It was played in the New England Championship Pairs at Holyoke, Mass., by Mr. Coffin himself.

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1♢	Pass	3NT
Pass	Pass	Pass

Mr. Coffin and his partner were playing an unusual bidding system, which explains west's extraordinary opening on 1½ honor-tricks. This bid was not intended in any sense as a psychic, but was based upon the belief that in duplicate the requirements for opening bids must be lighter than in rubber bridge. Mr. Coffin might have been risking a slam by his response of three no trump, but, as the cards lay, there was nothing of that kind possible.

The opening lead was the club 7, which was won with dummy's 8. The ace of diamonds won the next trick, and south's discard revealed the fact that no tricks outside of the top cards could be developed in that suit. A low club followed, which dummy was permitted to win with the king. A spade was now led, and then another. North won the second round and led the queen of hearts. Mr. Coffin, winning this with the ace, cashed his good spade and the remaining high heart, and then threw north in the lead by leading the heart 6. North then won another heart trick, but in the end was forced to lead up to the diamond ten-ace in dummy.

If you will study this play, you may understand what is meant by an "Exit Fork Strip." For myself, although I must confess to a great admiration for Mr. Coffin's terminology, I shall probably continue to call it simply a forced lead.

Today's Question.

In playing duplicate contract, is it compulsory to lead a card of the same suit on the second round as the one chosen by the opening leader? A number of my friends insist that it is.

Answer: No player, unless he has subjected himself to a penalty under the laws, is required to lead the same suit on a succeeding round as was led on any preceding round as was led on any preceding round. The purpose of contract bridge, whether played at duplicate or otherwise, is to make the best possible use of the combined holdings of the two hands, and there is no requirement whatever that you should permit your opponents to dictate your leads or plays.

Miss Yule Bride In Charming June Ceremony

The marriage lines for Miss Betty Yule and Loren William Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Nelson of Minden, were read at a charmingly arranged ceremony at 4:30 o'clock Thursday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs F. D. Kirsch, 2926 Randolph street. The Rev. Victor West of Elm Park M. E. church officiated against a background of two floor baskets of summer flowers, with other garden blossoms used in the rooms, in the presence of seventy-five guests.

When the guests had assembled, Jack Wheelock sang "All For You" by Bertrand-Brown. He was accompanied by Joe McLees.

The bride, who was unattended, wore powder blue Stehli crepe, fashioned on the simple princess lines, with the long skirt marked by a plait in the front and the back and a belt of the material finished with a flat ornament of the same crepe. The tucked shoulders of the bodice, with its high V neckline, gave it the smart broad effect, and the sleeves were in a large puff caught into a tight band at the elbow. Mrs Nelson completed her costume with a close turban of blue straw, banded with narrow blue ribbon, and blue slippers. She carried Snasta daisies tied with blue tulle.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. Mrs. Dwight Kirsch greeted the guests at the door. In the dining room, Mrs. Bess Hukill, Mrs. W. Paul Yule, Misses Louise and Jane Van Sickle, Mrs. Kyle Curry, and Mrs. Edward O. Miller, served. Mrs. Ted Blaschke was in the gift room and Miss Carol Sutherland was in charge of the guest book.

Upon their return from a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will be at home at 2544 Vine street. She is traveling in a modernistic print with black accessories.

The out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs Emil Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Edvin Nelson, Eric O Nelson, and Miss Maxine Royce, Minden; and Mr. and Mrs Clarence Howard and son, Billy, Superior.

Mr. and Mrs Nelson attended the university, where Mr. Nelson is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

MISS MONA ARNOLD WED TO ELDRIDGE ECRIVEN

At a simple morning service at First Christian church Wednesday Miss Mona Arnold, daughter of Mrs. Henry Jurgenson of Dorchester was married to Eldridge Scriven, son of C. E Scriven of Mitchell. Lines were read by Rev. Ray E. Hunt.

As the wedding party advanced to the altar Miss Charlotte Webster played, "O Promise Me." During the service she gave "I Love You Truly." The bride was costumed in a modish white sports suit.

Miss Arnold was attended by Miss Genevieve Olson of Tecumseh; and Charles Ziegler of Vesta served as best man. Both Miss Arnold and Mr Scriven were students at the University of Nebraska the past year. Mr Scriven was an affiliate of Acacia chapter of Delta Phi Gamma.

Immediate relatives were honored at a breakfast given by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs Fred Scott Bukey, 4200 Randolph, immediately following the ceremony. Out of town guests present were, Mrs. Henry Jurgenson, C. E. Scriven, Miss Myrna and Miss Audrey Arnold.

After a wedding trip to Denver Mr. Scriven will take his bride to Mitchell to live.

SHOWER THIS EVENING FOR MISS COTTIER.

Miss Dorothy Cottier will be the honoree at an informal party and miscellaneous shower this evening for which Mrs. J. Beattie, 6518 Colby avenue will be hostess. Twenty guests have been invited and will spend the evening with games, after which refreshments will be served. Jumping Jupiter, these folks don't know who I am

Some think I'm just a "Light" bill

Strange, but true—some still think their electric service bill is a "light" bill.

If questioned, they will say, "Oh, of course, we have an electric cleaner, doorbell, clock, radio, washer, percolator, iron, toaster, waffle iron, cigar lighter, food mixer, curling iron and many other appliances."

Seldom, however, does one realize that today modern labor-saving appliances account for 70% of the monthly electric bill.

The average family now spends more than three times as much for cigarets and tobacco as for electricity.

This is not an ELECTRIC LIGHT BILL – it's an ELECTRIC SERVICE BILL

Jack Dempsey Acclaimed as Successor to Tex

Fight Fans of Gotham All Set for Assault on Stadium Boxoffice

BY JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

NEW YORK, June 8—(INS)—Upwards of 65,000 spectators, shelling out in these "tight money" days an aggregate of from $250,000 to $300,000, will swarm into Yankee stadium tonight for the privilege of peering at a 15-round nonchampionship glove battle between Max Schmeling of Germany and Max Baer of California.

Not in many a moon have the customers "gone" for a fight as they have for this one. It has color and presages plenty of action. It may be a thriller. It appeals so strongly to the fans that there was talk this morning that the stadium may be a near sell-out, drawing an attendance of 75,000 to 80,000 for a "gate" of close to $350,000.

Jack Acclaimed Second Tex.

Promoter Jack Dempsey, once a glamorous ring figure himself, is staging the show and has done such a good job they were talking him up along Broadway today as "a second Tex Rickard." Dempsey is elated at the way things are turning out and says all he needs now is a little "Rickard luck" on the weather. The rest has gone over with a bang.

Fair weather is promised for the fight, but Jack is keeping his fingers crossed. New York has had an unusual amount of rain in the past fortnight. In the event of rain, the bout will be postponed until Friday night.

Due largely to Dempsey, the brawl has been one of the best ballyhooed events since the good old days of the million-dollar "gates." Dempsey has been stimulating interest in the fight for weeks. He has kicked up rows between the Schmeling and Baer forces; he has back-slapped and made friends and boomed the fight all over the east; he even offered his own chin by boxing a round each with Schmeling and Baer in their respective camps.

Battlers On the Scene.

Schmeling and Baer, both now on the scene, were in semi-seclusion today The German came in from his camp at Lake Swannanoa, near Oak Ridge, N. J. and checked in at a local hotel, the name of which was not disclosed. Baer, who motored in from his quarters at Atlantic City, is at a private home and closely guarded from the public.

They will make a brief appearance this afternoon at 2 o'clock when they will officially weigh in. Baer probably will show a weight advantage of at least 18 pounds over the "Black Uhlan." He will tip the beam around 208 pounds; Schmeling at 190, or thereabouts.

Returning to their respective quarters, they will rest and have one good meal before being taken to the stadium this evening to await the call to the ring.

The plan is to start the main go promptly at 10 o'clock, eastern daylight time (8 o'clock, Lincoln time.). There will be a heavy press representation at the ringside but the fight will not be broadcast by radio.

Betting Odds Favor German.

Betting odds today had widened to two to one, and in a few cases of 2½ to 1, with Schmeling the favorite. The wagering was moderately brisk, with reports current that the Baer followers were laying back to get their money down at as good odds as possible.

The referee and the judges will not be announced until shortly before the principals enter the ring. The suggestion advanced a few days ago that Dempsey be the third man within the ropes is definitely "out." Dempsey finds that even if the boxing commission would allow him to referee, which they wouldn't he has enough grief on his hands in promoting the show.

Schmeling had little to say today as he awaited the "zero hour." He merely stated he was "not worrying over the result of this fight." But his manager, Joe Jacobs, declared that there was "nothing to it"—Schmeling for sure.

Baer Exudes Confidence.

Baer was brimming over with confidence. In contrast to the quiet Schmeling, he frolicked around and wisecracked with his handlers.

"Don't worry about me," Baer told his friends. "I'll take care of the German. I'm going to shoot everything. If he'll mix with me, it will be a fight."

The eleventh-hour stampede for tickets almost had Promoter Dempsey on the ropes The old Manassa mauler had his coat off over at the offices of the "Jack Dempsey Sporting Club, Inc" on Broadway, supervising this, that and the other thing about the ducats. He admitted he was wrong when he used to kid Rickard about what a soft racket it was promoting a prize fight.

One of Dempsey's troubles was the activities of the speculators. The best tickets, ringside locations were priced at $11.50, but the speculators, who got hold of blocks of them, were peddling them in Broadway sporting circles at $25, and even higher, in view of the last-minute demand.

In the Municipal league, Porterfield and Burley of Insurance won a close one from Heal and Yost of the Mutuals, 9-7, 4-6, 6-3.

City Loop Leaders To Tangle Tonight

The leadership of the City amateur baseball league will be at stake tonight when Hardy Furniture and Gooch's Best, the two undefeated clubs in the league, tangle on the North Tenth diamond. Each team has won three games and each has trounced the Power nine, last year's champions.

Either Johnny Johnson or Henry Bretzer will do the chucking for the Hardy club, while Gooch's will rely upon either Heinie Herzog or Johnny Meyers

Roberts Dairy can improve its position by beating Wendelin on the muny diamond, while Power must trounce City at Thirty-first and W to remain within striking distance of the leaders.

PRICES SLASHED AT LANDIS YARD

Admission Fee to Lincoln Games Lowered To 25 Cents.

As suggested by The Star, Nebraska league ball will be offered to Landis Field patrons at reduced prices for the remainder of the season, according to a Thursday announcement by the Lincoln club officials. Grandstand admissions have been dropped from 35 to 25 cents. Thursday is ladies' night, members of the fair sex being admitted free. Two nights each week will be free to the feminine fans.

A crowd of more than 2,000 attended the Lincoln Newspapers' first "dime baseball night" at Landis lot Wednesday night and saw the Links slap a 14-5 defeat on the Norfolk league leaders. Jim Smith scattered 10 Norfolk hits, while Lincoln hopped on West for 12 blows and counted 10 runs during the first three innings.

The victory moved the links to within two yames of third place, Beatrice walloping Sioux Falls again, 11-5. Scores:

Swim Exhibition at Shrine Club's Pool

University of Nebraska varsity and freshman swimmers will appear Sunday afternoon in a swimming exhibition at the Lincoln Shrine club pool. The program, scheduled to start at 4 o'clock, will include exhibitions of swimming strokes and fancy diving by Ray and Jack Gavin, Howard Church, Don Easterday, Jack Minor of the varsity and Hugh Rathburn and Harry Kuklin of the frosh. Howard Brixley, Michigan high school champion in the crawl stroke, also will appear. Races for Shrine boys and girls will complete the program.

CUBS CROWDING LEAGUE LEADERS

Bruin Spurt Boosts Club To Within 3 Games of First Place.

BY LES CONKLIN.

NEW YORK, June 8—(INS)—The recent reformation of the Chicago Cubs will be put to the test today when the fast-traveling Bruins invade St. Louis for a series with the second-place Cardinals.

Winning eleven of their last 14 starts, the Cubs jumped from seventh to fourth place and are only three games behind the league-leading Giants. Meanwhile, the favored Pirates lost seven games out of eight and flopped from first place to third, only a whisker ahead of Chicago.

The spurt of the Cubs has been due to good pitching and to the rejuvenation of the expensive Floyd Cavendish Herman, a total loss earlier in the season. The Babe has walloped 12 hits, five of them for extra bases, in his last 18 times at bat. He had a perfect day with the willow with two triples and a double yesterday as the champion made it three out of four from Pittsburgh, 7 to 2. Chicago knocked Bill Swift out of the box in the second inning while Guy Bush went the route for the Cubs.

Chisox Move Up to Second.

Milton Gaston pitched the other Chicago club into second place in the American league by setting down the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1. Al Simmons hit a homer.

Washington, meanwhile, dropped to third place. The Senators had the Athletics licked in the tenth inning of a wild and wooley slugfest, but a storm came up and the score reverted to a 13 to 13 deadlock. Washington scored 10 runs in the first two innings, but the A's knotted the count in the eighth and again in the ninth, thanks to Jimmy Foxx, who smacked a homer and a double and drove in five runs.

Owen's homer started a rally that enabled Detroit to make it four straight over Cleveland, 3 to 1. Bridges held the Indians to six hits.

Ben Cantwell turned in a nice game for the Boston Braves, holding the slugging Phillies to six hits and winning, 3 to 1.

Other major league clubs were idle Wednesday.

Indians Seek New Leader

CLEVELAND, June 8—(AP)—Somewhere today Billy Evans, general manager of Cleveland's Indians, was doing something his secretary and president, Alvin Bradley, professed to know nothing about.

The guessers, however, figured he either was looking for ball players to bolster the team that has dropped 15 of its last 24 games or was interviewing a possible man aserial successor to Roger Peckinpaugh.

Two weeks ago, they recalled, Bradley confronted the team in New York and appealed to the players to snap out of their slump for Peckinpaugh's sake.

"The owners can hire a manager, but it's the public that fires him," Bradley told the Indians.

Cochet's Conqueror.

To this lanky Australian, Jack Crawford, belongs the distinction of being the first outsider to win the French tennis championship crown since 1925. Crawford defeated the great Henri Cochet for the championship at Auteuil, France, by a score of 8-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Amateur GOLF

LINCOLN WOMEN WIN.

Lincoln women golfers, with Eastridge setting the pace, won the lion's share of the out-of-town prizes in the women's open day at the Omaha Field club Wednesday. A field of 175 players attended the meet.

Mrs. Fred Patz and Mrs. C. J. Botsford of Eastridge, had the low gross for visiting players with 92s. Mrs. Patz won the prize, having seven 4s on the 18-hole course. Gertrude Krausnick, Eastridge, won the driving contest. Mrs. C. R. Bangh of the Field club had the low score of the afternoon with an 85. Net scores of the Lincoln women:

Mrs. Fred J. Patz (E), 76; Mrs. Kyle Curry (S), 77; Mrs. C. L. Carper (C), 78; Mrs. Charles Koontz (S), 79; Mrs. P. R. Chevalier (E), 82; Mrs. C. J. Botsford (E), 82; Mrs. Ted Sick (S), 83; Mrs. H. FOGARTY IN FINALS.

Ed Fogarty went into the fourth flight finals of the Eastridge spring handicap tourney Wednesday when he beat George Towne, 5 and 3.

SPURGIN FLOPPED BY ADAM KRIEGER

NORFOLK, Neb., June 8—(AP)—The first outdoor wrestling program of the season took place here last night, with Pat McGill of Wisner pinning the shoulders of Buck Olsen, Minnapolis, to the mat twice in 22 minutes in the feature bout.

Adam Krieger of Lincoln threw Happy Jack Spurgin of Memphis in 14 minutes; Earl Wade, Winside, and Rough-House Nelson, Canada, drew, and Francis Stull, Omaha, beat Joe Tobin, Sioux City, in 12 minutes in the other bouts.

Elite of Links Sport Lined Up at Chicago to Bid for Open Title

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

CHICAGO, June 8—(INS)—By the tape, it's less than 28,000 yards; by time, it's only three days; by distance, 72 holes. But you can't measure heartbreak—

Down through a blistering course, heat rising from the fairways with the impact of a blow, the greatest of all golfers on the North American continent will assemble this morning at Northshore and begin the annual agony known as the national open championship. It's only a sport perhaps, but its competition has the breathless heat that only a melting pot can know, where courage and gallantry and greed blend and are one. The zero hour for the first pair was 8:30 o'clock.

All Friends, But Rivals.

They were the pace-makers in a field of 150, all of them ordinarily good friends and healthy rivals. But a sullen, brooding air seemed to pervade this championship, in keeping with the day and the drama to come. Friendship is liable to sell a little under the market when the money is up, especially in this 1933 tournament, There are too many desperate men on the scene.

One of them is Gene Sarazen, trying to repeat his "double" of last year in the American and British opens. Another is Walter Hagen, once the young master of golf, now neither young nor masterful. If Hagen and Sarazen happened to go down to the finish in a dead heat, it would make the play-off of all time. They are parties to an ancient vendetta that seems to have flared anew into an active feud. But Hagen is supposed to be through.

Mac Smith Still Waiting.

Mac Smith isn't; not yet, anyhow. The hardy, old Scot once got as far as a national play-off and they said he couldn't miss the next time. But that was 23 years ago and there hasn't been any next time yet. Mr. Smith, I believe, can be safely listed as a desperate man here.

So can Leo Diegel and Billy Burke, the 1931 champion. Diegel should have won in 1920, his first championship. He would have, except for some unwarranted meddling by a former champion. And though, like Smith, he's a better golfer today, he is still without his first open title. Burke, deprived of a place on the Ryder cup team, is crazy to win here and force the committee to recognize his right to be included in the international matches.They'll be "desperadoes" today, but the course isn't exactly their kind or Hagen's.

Von Elm Unbothered.

But it won't bother George Von Elm, the "business man golfer" whom they all resent, nor some of the outsiders like Paul Runyan, Denny Shute, Tom Creavy, Johnny Fischer, Johnny Revolta and Johnny Goodman, the amateur. It is a tight course, demanding extreme accuracy with wood shots and long irons, the kind of course suitable, too, to Tommy Armour, Joe Kirkwood, Phil Perkins and Harry Cooper. It likewise seems cut to pattern for Mac Smith and, before we go too far in any given direction, let it be noted that, as far as Sarazen is concerned, any course is a suitable course when he happens to be hitting his shots.

Anyhow, a victory for almost any man named so far would come under the head of "good theatre." Especially would this be true in the case of Goodman, the upstart whom the golf association did not want, or Kirkwood, the vaudeville shotmaker who has finally learned how to play golf, or Perkins, the commoner whom English golf would not have.

Goodman Paired With Burke.

Yes, the tournament fairly bristles with possibilities of a most engaging nature and the draw has even aided the natural course of events by coupling Goodman and Burke, the two pariahs. They will start at 11:30, about midway down the list, with several interesting couples preceding them.One of these will send Johnny Farrell, former champion, and Gus Moreland, the amateur, away at 9:05.

Another calls for Hagen and Olin Dutra, P. G. A. champion, to leave at 9:40. Sarazen will start 20 minutes later with Wiffy Cox, followed by Von Elm and Bobby Cruickshank at 10:35, Runyan and Pete O'Hara at 11:20, Kirkwood and Mac Smith at 12:10, Diegel and Fisher at 12:25. Armour and Ed Dudley at 2:05 and Johnny Golden and Craig Wood at 220.

It will be 18 holes today, then 18 more tomorrow, with the final 36 on Saturday. Three days, 72 holes, a few thousand yards, more or less. But, then, you can'tmeasure heartbreak.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Many Stocks Touch New Highs For Past Year Or More; Support Brought Up After Reactions

Thursday Trading At Feverish Pace

Final Gains Range From Fractions to 3 Points; Sales 6,500,000.

NEW YORK, June 8—(AP)—The sweeping stock market advance encountered some resistance today but moderate reactions found sizeable supporting orders and many prices again touched new highs for the past year or more with final gains ranging from fractions to 3 or more points. Trading continued at a feverish pace, the turnover approximating 6,500,000 shares.

Another sharp slump in the American dollar in foreign exchange markets apparently was considered a bullish market factor. Coincident with soaring foreign currencies and a revival of inflatory gossip 7 mining and metal stocks exhibited renewed strength. Some industrials and utilities moved up substantially. Grains and cotton sagged. Rail equities were inclined to lag. Chicago & Northwestern dropped around 4 points at one time, but quickly regained most of the loss.

Allied Chemical came back for a gain of around 4 points and the fast-stepping Homestake mining stepped up about 10. The heavily traded mining and metal issues, with gains of around 1 to 3 or more points, included Dome mines, McIntyre Porcupine, Alaska Juneau, U. S. Smelting, U. S Steel and International Nickel. Large blocks of nickel changed hands in the last hour. Stocks up fractionally to about a point included American Telephone, American Tobacco B, Liggett & Myers B, Sears Roebuck, Case, Anaconda, Montgomery Ward, American Radiator and United Corporation. Shares of Western Union, Santa Fe, National Distillers and a number of others sagged a point or more. Most of the leaders closed slightly under their tops of the day.

Banking circles are interested at the moment in rumors that the administration is considering establishment of an open gold market here similar to the one in England.

Further confirmation of business and industrial recovery was contained in the General Motors report of sales to consumers in the United States during May. These totaled 85,969 units against 71,599 in April and 63,500 in May last year. Forecasts of U. S. Steel's unfilled orders as of May 31, which will be made public Saturday, estimate that a fair-sized increase, the second since last October, will be shown.

Stocks again boiled in the early trading today, advancing uniformly for gains of fractions to more than 2 points. Industrial leaders moved ahead after recent sluggishness. Gold mining shares were in brisk demand, Homestake soaring 10 points. Utilities and rails were firm.

Allied Chemical, Case, U. S. Steel, McIntyre Porcupine and Alaska Juneau were up around 2 points. Other shares up a point or more included Chesapeake & Ohio, Du Pont, American Can, American Telephone, National Distillers, New York Central, Union Pacific and American Smelting. General Motors, Santa Fe, Anaconda, Nickel, Consolidated Gas, International Telephone and National Steel were improved fractions to a point. Call money renewed at 1 per cent.

Considerable churning occurred during the second hour. Mining shares continued to give the best performance. U. S. Smelting advanced around 3 points and Dome was up 2. Santa Fe common was steady while the preferred gained a point.

Intimations of a German transfer moratorium on service payments covering all foreign debts came as no surprise to the financial district which recalled that a week ago the head of the Reichsbank had indicated such action was necessary. In banking circles here it is understood that steps will now be taken by the Reich to have all credit categories overhauled, although definite details are still lacking.

In the meantime, business continues to expand. The first 14 railroads to report on traffic for last week, which included Memorial day, showed total loadings of 332,692 cars, as compared with 350,138 cars in the preceding week, a decrease of 4.7 per cent, but an increase of 16.2 per cent over the corresponding week of 1932.

Foreign exchanges were again strong in early dealings. Sterling opened at $4.10¾, an overnight gain of 1⅞ cents, while French francs stood at 4.80 cents, an increase of 4 points.

Chicago Wheat Prices Decline

Market Closes Weak, ⅜ to ⅞ Under Wednesday's Finish.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 8—(AP)—Speculative interest in wheat dwindled today, and prices sagged, especially during the final hour.

The fact that the United States government crop report would be issued tomorrow and that the world economic conference was scheduled to meet in London Monday tended to restrict operations. A sensational advance in British exchange failed to act as much of a stimulus.

Wheat closed weak ⅜ to ⅞ cent under yesterday's finish, July 73⅜@½c, September 75@75⅛c. Corn ⅜ to ¾ cent down, July 43⅞c, September 46¾c. Oats ¼ to ⅜ cent off, and provisions showing 2 cents to 25 cents decline.

Reports of dust storms in the southwest led to early upturns of wheat prices today. Unfavorable crop news from spring wheat territory northwest was also a stimulus to buyers. Opening ¼ to ⅝ cent higher, wheat afterward held near the initial range. Corn started ¼ cent lower to a shade advance, and subsequently declined all around.

Later setbacks in wheat values more than wiped out gains. Forecasts pointed to somewhat cooler weather in Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota, and there were scattered rains reported northwest. Slight rallies which ensued were associated with sharp new upturns in British exchange. The wheat trade here, however, showed itself more or less inclined to mark time pending developments at the London economic conference and while awaiting the United States government crop report due tomorrow.

Trade gossip had it that a professional element under able leadership was opposing wheat market advances. Doubt was expressed, however, of their ability to prevent the market reflecting distinctly unfavorable crop developments. Corn displayed a weak undertone as a result of aggressive support and because of liberal receipts here.

New high price records for the season were reached by oats, a consequence of crop damage reports from Illinois and Iowa.

Provisions were neglected.

About mid-session, wheat was varying from ¼ cent decline to ⅛ cent advance, compared with yesterday's finish, and corn was ⅛ to ⅜ cent down.

Corn arrivals in Chicago today were 310 cars, against 167 a week ago and 34 at this time last year.

Weather conditions were regarded as favorable for the new corn crop, and official reports indicated that rapid progress had been made in completing planting although the latter is later than usual over a considerable area. Prices averaged somewhat lower, with trade mainly of a local character. Reports of a betterment in eastern shipping demand had little influence.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW.

NEW YORK, June 8—(AP)—With semi-speculative issues leading the way the bond market today continued its climb to higher levels. Low priced rails again were in strong demand despite the Rock Island's move yesterday for reorganization.

Many industrials swung ahead in sympathy with the strength of stocks, but some of the communications issues reacted sharply on realizing induced by their earlier advances.

Strong features in transportation group, which were up 1 to 2 points, included some loans of the Allegheny corporation, Chicago & Northwestern, Erie, Great Northern, Missouri Pacific and New York Central.

Western Union 5s and Postal Telegraph 5s slumped several points but most other utility issues were firm. Kansas Gas & Electric 4½s gained about 2 points.

Steel, rubber and oil issues were firm.

U. S. governments improved slightly on the prompt subscription to the treasury's June offerings. Foreign loans were steady with good recoveries in several of the German issues.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

NEW YORK, June 8—(AP)—Industrials took the lead in another forward push in curb stock today.

Some fast moving issues like Aluminum Co. of America, Tubize Chatillon and Hazel Atlas Glass, climbed 3 to 5 points, while the main body of leaders worked upward at a more leisurely pace.

Traders apparently continued impressed with the market possibilities of utilities, oils, mining shares and a fairly wide list of commodity and manufacturing issues.

Gains of a point or more were registered in American Gas & Electric, Atlas Corp., Electric Bond & Share, Lake Shore Mines, Niles-Bement-Pond and Gulf Oil.

A few stocks moved against the trend, Buckeye Pipe dropping 2 and New York Steam 3. Standard of Indiana and Swift gained fractionally.

GRAIN NOTES

CHICAGO, June 8—(AP)—The government's weekly crop summary concedes serious damage to wheat in Kansas and rain was said to be needed urgently over the entire west. Condition of wheat in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys was said to be excellent, however.

The grain trade anxiously awaited weather developments today, realizing another day like yesterday will greatly lower winter wheat prospects in Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma stations of which have already reported premature ripening and serious lack of subsoil moisture. Showers and lower temperatures were forecast for certain midwest areas late in the day.

Crops in Nebraska and Kansas are in that critical period of bloom and filling in when heat and drouth are most dangerous.

Prices pushed nearly a cent higher yesterday in spite of almost constant opposition by professionals. All grains advanced, oats leading. Country advices reported damage to the grain in almost every territory.

In several quarters it is believed the market is beginning to be influenced by the coming world's economic conference scheduled to open Monday in London.

Chicago Livestock.

CHICAGO, June 8—(AP)—Another excessive supply of hogs with demand for pork at a low ebb in the leading wholesale markets forced prices 10 cents lower today. The top dropped to $4.65, lowest in nearly a month.

Receipts exceeded estimates by 5,000 head and packers again had almost half the run direct, leaving them out of the market. Shippers had small orders and independent killers were not disposed to load up with hogs during the excessive hot weather when demand for pork was slow.

Leading outside markets also reported heavy receipts with trade slow and prices generally ranging from 10 cents to 15 and 25 cents lower.

Cattle trade was fairly active. Receipts were meager and all buying interests were trading in some fashion or other. Lower grades were predominant, but were also getting good action.

Sheep lost another 25 cents, following a similar decline late yesterday. Supplies were the heaviest of the week and found buyers cautious and unwilling to purchase until the weather moderates and demand for mutton picks up.

HOGS—Receipts, 26,000, including 12,000 direct; slow, mostly 10c lower than yesterday; bulk $4.55@4.65; top $4.65; light lights down to $4.00; good pigs $3.50@3.75; packing sows $4.00@4.25; light light good and choice 142-160 lbs., $4.00@4.50; light weight, 160-200 lbs., $4.35@4.65; medium weight, 200-250 lbs., $4.55@4.65; heavy weight, 250-350 lbs., $4.50@4.65; packing sows, medium and good, 275-550 lbs., $3.90@4.35; pigs, good and choice, 100-130 lbs., 03.40@4.00.

CATTLE—Receipts 3,500; calves, 2,000; generally steady trade; market slow, but all interests operating in small fashion at least; not much beef in crop; lower grades predominating and getting fairly good action; best yearlings early $6.75; choice medium weights held well above $7.00; 1,410 lb. averages $6.65; bulk of crop selling at $6.25 down to $5.00; bulls firm stockers and feeders steady at $4.75@6.00. Slaughter cattle and vealers: steers, good and choice, 550-900 lbs., $5.75@7.35; 900-1,100 lbs., $5.75@7.35; 1,100-1,300 lbs., $5.75@7.35; 1,300-1,500 lbs., $5.50@7.35; common and medium, 550-1,300 lbs., $4.25@6.00; heifers, good and choice, 550-750 lbs., $5.25@6.25; common and medium, $3.75@5.25; cows, good, $3.65@4.25; common and medium $3.35@3.65; bulls (yearlings excluded) good (beef) $3.10@3.75; cutter common and medium, $2.75@3.40; vealers good and choice, $5.00@6.00; medium, $4.50@5.00; cull and common, $2.75@4.50. Stocker and feeder cattle: steers, good and choice, 500-1,050 lbs., $5.25@6.75; common and medium, $4.00@5.25.

SHEEP—Receipts, 11,000; fat lambs and yearlings another 25c lower following similar decline yesterday; desirable native ewe and wether lambs mostly $8.00; few $8.25@35; good to choice shorn yearlings $6.50@6.75; lambs, 90 lbs., down good and choice, $7.50@8.35; common and medium, $5.50@7.50; ewes, 90-150 lbs., good and choice, $2.00@3.25; all weights, common and medium, $1.50@2.50.

SALARY DOUBLED MITCHELL SAYS

Banker Testifies Pay Increased in Year From $100,000 to $200,000.

NEW YORK, June 8—(AP)—Charles E. Mitchell testified at his income tax evasion trial today that in 1931 (he thought it was that year, though he seemed uncertain) he received a 100 per cent salary increase—from $100,000 to $200,000.

He used none of that extra salary, he acknowledged under questioning by U. S. Attorney George Z. Medalie, to pay back any of a $666,666.67 payment he had received from the National City Co., and which he had not entered on his income tax return on the ground that it was not income, but merely an advance to be repaid.

He said the salary increase was from $25,000 to $75,000 as chairman of the National City Co., and from $75,000 to $125,000 as chairman of the National City bank.

"And did you ever turn over any part of that salary in repayment of the $666,666.67?" Medalie asked.

"No, sir," Mitchell replied.

"And you paid back no part of that to reduce that $666,000 debt?" asked Medalie.

"No, I paid back no part of it," Mitchell returned.

Mitchell is charged with defrauding the government of more than $850,000 in income taxes for 1929 and 1930 by sham sales of stock to his wife and to a friend of a friend and by pretending that the [illegible] was an advance rather than a gift.

U. S. DRY CHIEF OPPOSES REPEAL

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)—Expressing "unalterable opposition" to repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, Maj. A. V. Dalrymple, prohibition administrator, told the house ways and means committee today that legalization of naturally fermented wines would increase respect for law and bring needed revenues to the treasury.

Dalrymple was testifying in support of the Lea bill which would legalize wines of from 11 to 12 per cent alcohol by volume and tax the new beverage 20 cents per gallon.

"My observations as director of prohibition lead me to think that the passage of this bill would have a very wholesome effect upon enforcement as a whole," Dalrymple said.

"The sale of 3.2 beer has very materially reduced bootlegging. It also has created a feeling of favor for enforcement which the law did not have before. Liberalization of the wine laws would have the same effect."

Prexy to Keep Cases On Recruiting Plan

BERKELEY, Cal., June 8—(INS)—A close watch will be kept on the recently announced plan of the "Big C" society of the University of California to solicit athletes for the institution, Robert G. Sproul, president of the university, said today. Sproul said he would eye the experiment with interest and hope.

"I should prefer, of course, that athletes should come to the university without any solicitation whatever," said Sproul.

"The fact is, however, that high school stars seldom, if ever, are permitted to select a college or university on a basis of educational advantages.

"In these circumstances, the program of the "Big C" society has the merit of being open and above board, with an executive who will be known and who may be held responsible for his acts."

Pat Page Lands Job At Coast Hi School

CHICAGO, June 8—(AP)—H. O. "Pat" Page, former University of Chicago athletic coach, today accepted the position as director of athletics and coach of major sports at Montezuma boys schools, Los Gatos, California. He follows westward his old boss, A. A. Stagg, coach and director of athletics at the College of the Pacific at Stockton, Calif.

U. S. DELEGATION REACHES LONDON

LONDON, June 8—(AP)—Secretary Hull and other members of the American delegation to the world economic conference arrived here early this evening.

Welcomed by British foreign office officials, the American delegates went directly to their headquarters in Claridge's hotel.

SLASH IN COMMERCE DIVISION

WASHINGTON, June 8—(AP)— A 50 per cent reduction of the commerce department's foreign service is to be put in effect July 1. More than 100 trade commissioners, attaches, clerks and stenographers will be brought home, some to be given other jobs. The state department probably will take over much of the work.

THE WEATHER

The pressure is low to the north with moderate centers over Minnesota and Alberta and is higher to the south with centers over the Gulf and California coasts. The spiral movement of air about the Minnesota low has given Nebraska the little respite of northerly winds but southerly winds are due soon to return. Light rains have fallen from Kansas to Minnesota, Huron reporting more than an inch. Kansas City, Minneapolis, Toledo, Knoxville and the intervening area constitute the warm spot this morning.

If You'll Tell Them Your Room Is Shady - Maybe That's The Thing Will Win Them

HUBBELL FIRST IN VOTE COUNT

New York Giant Pitcher Goes Ahead Warneke In Balloting.

CHICAGO, June 8—(AP)— When the "game of a Century" opens at Comiskey park here July 6, it will be either Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants or Lon Warneke of the Cubs who will be on the mound to face the All-Star cast from the American league.

The home town fans, whose votes poured in yesterday, gave the Giants' hurler a slight edge over the crafty Warneke and the race to lead in the poll is as tight as ever.

Hubbell's vote stood today at 67,793 against 67,587 for the Cub moundsman.

Klein Far In Front.

Neither hurler, however, has amassed anywhere near the vote cast for Chuck Klein of the Phillies. Klein is leading his nearest competitor, Paul Waner of Pittsburgh, in the outfielders' race by more than 24,000, their totals being 74,463 and 50,118, respectively. Other National league leaders are:

First base—Terry, New York, 57,321.

Second base—Frish, St. Louis, 57,487.

Third base—Traynor, Pittsburgh, 72,192.

Shortstop—Bartell, Philadelphia, 45,533.

Catchers — Hartnett, Chicago, 73,844.

Weather Gods Smile On Battle in Gotham

NEW YORK, June 8—(AP)— A warm summer evening, with a clear sky overhead, was the prospect at 10 a. m. (E. S. T.) for the Max Baer-Max Schmeling 15-round fight in Yankee stadium tonight.

Although the official weather forecast was for "partly cloudy tonight and Friday," the weather bureau said there was nothing to indicate any atmospheric disturbance and the probability was it would be fair.

The metropolitan area has been having a nightly thunderstorm since Sunday, but nothing of that nature is expected for the evening's fistic show.

Deputy Secretary of State.

Browning-Lewis Act Put On In Far West

LOS ANGELES, June 8—(INS)— Jim Browning, mighty Missouri heavyweight wrestler, pressed closer today to the much-disputed grappling championship over the prostrate form of the veteran Ed "Strangler" Lewis.

Browning took two out of three falls from Lewis, winning the first in 31 minutes, two seconds, and the third in six minutes, two seconds. Lewis took the second by bringing into play some of his famous headlocks in 11 minutes, 11 seconds.

Lewis appeared overweight, but Browning was in top condition. Gus Sonnenberg took a two-fall semi-windup from Hal Rumberg.

Londos Wins By Foul.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 8—(AP)—Jim Londos, 205, New York, won by foul here last night from Everett Marshall, 212, La Junta, Colo. Marshall allegedly used a strangle hold after each had won a fall.

GAELS SHOW OFF AT SOLDIER FIELD

CHICAGO, June 8—(AP)— The Kerry Gaelic football team, champions of Ireland and undefeated in four starts in the United States, were in Chicago today preparing for a game with a picked American fifteen Saturday at Soldier field.

With an appetite for two hen's eggs apiece, 72 people could sit down to breakfast and eat the equal to this amount from a single egg of the aepyornis bird. The egg is equal in bulk to a gross of hen's eggs.

Fresh aepyornis eggs, however, are nonexistent on earth—even the birds, themselves, are extinct. Scientists say that not so many generations ago—possibly only 200 years—the bird lived in Madagascar where they may have furnished oversized omelets to the natives for ages. Like other monsters of the past, the aepyornis died out, leaving to the ostrich the title of world's biggest egg layer.

Stale aepyornis eggs—the only kind known—are extremely valuable, and the one shown above is carefully guarded in the National museum in Washington, D. C.

Strange as it seems, the state of Kentucky is divided into two separate and distinct parts—each separated from the other by land, so that in going from one part of the state to the other it is necessary to cross over a part of some other state. The smaller part, as shown in the above drawing, is surrounded entirely by Missouri and Tennessee. The Missouri side is bounded by the Mississippi river, while Kentucky-Tennessee border is a continuation of the same line between Tennessee and the larger part of Kentucky.

Trousered Women.

What about the pajamas and trouserette fad for women? Do the men like to see the women in such bifurcated garments? 'Judith' asks our opinion.

For the most part ment do not like any feminine fashions bordering upon the masculine, and although some of the trouserette effects are decidedly feminine, very few men like them.

Women seem less and less to dress to please the men For the men seldom like feminine effects in dress that are smart and extreme They like daintiness and flulfiness, good lines in tailored things, and don't fancy the bizarre

It is the difference between the sexes that gives birth to interest, and men are and always were intrigued most by things that are distinctly feminine They like a womanly woman, and their senses are actually shocked by the woman who swings along the street in garments that are cut in imitation of the man's trousers

Unpopular Independence.

Dear Minerva Please give me some advice. My boy friend lives in another town and I am expecting him soon. He does not have a steady job but manages to get little odd jobs and in this way earns a little money. He hasn't been to see me for quite a while as, I think, he does not have the money I have a job and work every day and could afford to treat him to a show when he comes to see me and I wouldn't mind it either but I do not know whether that would be the best thing to do or not. I could at least pay my half of the expenses but he might not even let me What do you think of it? Would you suggest this to him or what would you advise me to do? Thanks—BENNY.

A—Some girls do pay their own expenses to a show, and even occasionally treat the boy. But I don't believe it ever goes over very big with a boy. I think it would be better for you to entertain him in your home, invite him for dinner, or have friends in for an evening party, when he comes to visit you. He could accept such entertainment without injury to his pride But the actual and conspicuous spending of money on him would be pretty hard to take.

Old-Fashioned Mother.

Dear Minerva. I am a girl sixteen years old, a senior in high school, and have gone with boys for the past nine months. My mother and I get along splendidly with our work and always have, but I do not have the confidence in her that I would like to have. I do not consult her about things as I know I should, but I do without them instead. I have gone with the boys She knows this. But I never tell her where I go and who I am with when I go. She is rather old-fashioned in ways. Now I wouldn't do anything in the world to disappoint her, but lots of times I could have fun such as going to dances when girls get together, but my folks will not let me go. They say if I want to go that they'll take me This was their aatitude toward roller skating, too, and I have never gone either place.

The second problem is that I am going with a boy two years my senior The one drawback is his reputation, which is not bad but is not the best and I know this counts a lot in life today Once our reputation is gone, there is not much to live for. But he has treated me better than any boy I have gone with and I have gone with lots of boys And another thing that causes me to worry is a story circulated by a boy friend rival, in which there is not one word of truth. Some say I shouldn't go on account of this story, but it is not true. What shall I do? I broke up with him once, but we made up again I went with another boy during that time, but he was too serious and mushy and I can't stand anyone that way I don't take love, as they call it a bit seriously, and go with the bunch to have some good, clean fun.

These problems have been worrying me very much during my vacation, which will last three months, and they may be three lonely ones at that. My folks believe in staying home, which I do too but I think there's a time for both work and play.

—UNDECIDED AND LONELY

A—I cannot blame your mother for her attitude toward dancing and skating. I don't believe in girls going to such public places unattended. If you go with your own escorts and your own party, it is quite all right But for girls to go alone is not discreet or even safe

I don't believe your mother is as old-fashioned as yon think she is. Tell her about your little problems, and even though they surprise and shock her, she will adjust herself to them and be able to help you

It is difficult to know what to advise about the boy whose reputation is not the best. Since he is entirely the gentleman and good companion with you, I'm inclined to think you should discount the reputation. Sometimes boys get themselves talked about because they are lively and boisterous, when they are fundamentally splendid boys

I COULDN'T DO MY OWN WASH IF I HAD TO SCRUB. BUT MY NEW WAY IS SO EASY—ALL I DO IS SOAK AND RINSE. CLOTHES COME WHITER THAN EVER—AND I'M SAVING AT LEAST $3 EVERY WEEK ON LAUNDRY BILLS

You, too, can get clothes 4 or 5 shades whiter—EASILY

SAY GOODBYE to washboard and boiler! Here's a way to get clothes whiter than you ever dreamed!

Do not scrub. Forget about boiling. This way saves your strength —saves your hands—saves the clothes, too, and that saves money!

Just soak everything in creamy Rinso suds. Watch those suds get busy! See them soak away the dirt! Clothes come 4 or 5 shades whiter — colored things come bright and fresh as new. Clothes last 2 or 3 times longer this gentle "scrubless" way. Many women have saved $100 —and more—by using Rinso

The home-making experts of 316 leading newspapers—the makers of 40 famous washers — recommend Rinso.

Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed up soaps—even in hardest water. Wonderful for dishes and all cleaning—so easy on the hands. Be sure to get Rinso at your grocer's today.
